LULL IN DISORDERS SUDDENLY ENDED BY TERRIFIC EXPLOSION

Fusillade at Jewish Colony and Unsuccessful Attempt to Blow Up Train Only Outrages of the Day in Palestine—Stern Punishment Brings Measure of Peace

JERUSALEM, Oct. 19 (P).—A terrific bomb explosion in the Shimon Hazadik Oriental Jewish quarter tonight shattered the brief lull in Palestine disorders. No casualties were reported, but blood spattered on the street was taken by police as indication the bomber had been wounded and fled. Premature explosion apparently saved many lives.

Another outbreak occurred when a fusillade of shots was fired at a Jewish bus traveling from Haifa to Jerusalem.

Stern military punishment for trouble-makers previously had restored a measure of peace to strife-torn Palestine.

CURFEW LIFTED

The curfew which had been in effect for four days was lifted in Jerusalem after today's disorders were limited to an unsuccessful attempt to blow up a Haifa-Egypt train and a brief fusillade directed at a Jewish colony on Shephelah Plain.

British troops blew up three Arab houses in Daharia, near Hebron, in reprisal for an Arab raid yesterday on a police arsenal in which rifles were stolen.

Dogs were utilized in pressing the search for the raiders and the

MAINLAND JAIL OVERCROWDED

Scores of Unemployed Men Arrested for Obstructing Vancouver Police

VANCOUVER, Oct. 19 (P).—City police today arrested twenty-nine unemployed men on charges of obstructing constables by soliciting funds on downtown streets, and held them in custody in the police station jail, already overcrowded with prisoners.

Today's arrests raised to 122 the number of men apprehended on similar charges since yesterday noon. In police court this afternoon, Magistrate H. S. Wood sentenced thirty-six to thirty days imprisonment and remanded fifty-seven for hearing later in the week.

FILLED TO CAPACITY

Meanwhile, Oakalla Prison was crowded to capacity, according to Warden Walter Owen. The warden said he could not house any more of the unemployed in his institution, where already some 200 are serving sentences meted out on obstruction convictions during the past few weeks.

Owen said overcrowding at Oakalla was creating a "difficult situation in maintaining health of the inmates and in keeping the premises clean and orderly."

"While a few prisoners may be taken in during the next few days as the occasional inmate is discharged, we will not be able to take any large number until October 26, when twenty-three prisoners will be discharged."

NO DECISION ON FEDERAL GRANT

Dominion May Contribute to Cost Of New Westminster Bridge At Next Session

OTTAWA, Oct. 19 (P).—Prime Minister Mackenzie King said tonight no decision had been reached on the application for Federal assistance in meeting the cost of the new highway bridge at New Westminster. It is understood the Provincial Government has sought assistance on the ground the bridge constitutes an essential link in the trans-Canada highway.

In the event the Government decided to assist the Province in this project, the Prime Minister said, the grant would have to be placed in the estimates and passed at the next session of Parliament.

Battered by Japanese Bomb

R. MONTAGUE-SMITH

Of the Shanghai staff of Imperial Chemical Industries, Ltd., lost his right eye and the use of his right arm and shoulder, when the motor car in which he had been evacuating refugees from Chapei into the British Concession was wrecked by a bomb on the "bloody 14th" of August, at the corner of Edward VII Avenue and Tibet Road. Mr. Montague-Smith is the first casualty to reach Victoria from the Orient.

Japanese Start Major Offensive On Whole Front

Many Civilians Killed in Air Raids on Railway Stations and Trains—Peiping Reports Invaders' War Machine Definitely Slowed in Northern China—Nanking Severely Bombed

SHANGHAI, Oct. 20 (P).—Chinese bombing planes raided Japanese lines in the Shanghai sector today with a mystifying absence of Japanese anti-aircraft fire. Chinese made a lightning incursion, dropped a half dozen bombs and sped away. Damage was not disclosed.

Japanese launched another major offensive all along the front here, apparently aimed at expulsion of Chinese forces from the Shanghai zone before the Nine-Power Treaty conference starts October 30 at Brussels to discuss the Far Eastern conflict.

Japanese authorities served notice that all trains, stations, warehouses and railroad equipment are now considered military objectives for bombing operations. They declared Chinese railways are transporting military supplies and some trains are armed with machine guns.

OTTAWA, Oct. 19 (P).—Tomorrow's visit to Ottawa by United States Secretary of State Cordell Hull will be private and confidential, Prime Minister Mackenzie King stated tonight.

The United States Cabinet member will arrive in Ottawa at noon tomorrow to fill an engagement made several months ago when he accepted an invitation to visit Government House as a guest of Lord Tweedsmuir. He will also be given a state dinner by the Dominion Government, tomorrow night.

Thursday evening Secretary Hull will be guest of honor at a Government House dinner. On both occasions the speeches will be brief and entirely social, it was stated.

CONFUSION REIGNS AS STOCK PRICES SLUMP THEN RALLY STRONGLY

Wild Scenes at New York Exchange Until Confidence Restored Following Early Session Continuation of Monday's Severe Recession

NEW YORK, Oct. 19 (P).—Amid confusion and bewilderment reminiscent of the wild days of 1929, stock markets on both sides of the Atlantic crumpled today in a selling storm, then came back strongly at the finish.

Setting a dizzying pace, prices of leading issues fell $10 and more on Wall Street under a downpour of sales at the opening. A sense of equilibrium came after noon and, in the last hour, there was a general rally in which many stocks wiped out all initial losses and some finished higher for the day.

Black Sea Storm Causes Wreck of Hundred Vessels

ISTANBUL, Turkey, Oct. 19 (P).—Two airplanes dropped food today to twenty-five drifting seamen on sailing vessels after rescue ships had tried for four days to reach them in a Black Sea storm. Twenty sailors have died, 100 vessels have been wrecked and extensive property damage has been done along the Turkish Coast by the five-day storm.

ALL BODIES RECOVERED

Task Proceeds of Bringing Crash Victims Down From Mountain

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 19 (P).—Trucks bore the bodies of the nineteen victims of the nation's greatest airplane disaster from the mountain crash scene to Evanston, Wyo., mortuaries tonight, United Air Lines officials here said.

"I have been informed that all of the bodies have been taken down from the scene of the wreck," Bob Johnson, public relations agent for the air concern, asserted.

"They will be placed in charge of identification and other arrangements. A number of the bereaved relatives already have assembled at Evanston to claim their dead."

DANGEROUS TASK

Deep snow, steep and slippery canyon walls and the ever-present menace of landslides required that the work proceed with great caution. United Air Lines officials said it may be impossible to get all of the bodies back to civilization before tomorrow night.

YORK RECEIVES ROYAL VISITORS

King and Queen Open Three-Day Tour With Busy Programme

YORK, Oct. 19 (P).—The King and Queen were formally received at the railway station here today by civic officials on the occasion of the first visit of a reigning monarch since 1640.

First occupant of the Throne to visit York since Charles I, the King was presented with the city's sword by Lord Mayor Morris "in humble testimony of our obedience."

The Princess Royal and her husband, the Earl of Harewood, greeted their Majesties here and, after tea with the Lord Mayor, Their Majesties drove to Harewood House where they had dinner. Among other guests was the Archbishop of York.

Earlier the King and Queen opened their three-day tour of Yorkshire with a visit to Hull, where they carried out a busy programme despite fog and cold weather. Crowds lined the streets to cheer the Royal party.

ROYAL DUKES' VISIT

At the same time the King's brothers, the Dukes of Gloucester and Kent, and their wives made public appearances in other parts of the country. In the West the Duke and Duchess of Gloucester began a visit to the Duchy of Cornwall and at Swansea the Duke of Kent became chancellor of the University of Wales.

A crowd of 100,000 warmly greeted the Duke and Duchess of Gloucester at Plymouth as they ended a motor tour of the Dartmoor estate of the Duchy. In the afternoon the Duchess officiated at the launching of a namesake warship, the 9,300-ton cruiser Gloucester, at Devonport.

At Swansea the Duke of Kent laid the foundation stone for a new college of the University of Wales and then was installed as chancellor of the university in succession to the Duke of Windsor.

EFFORT FOR NON-INTERVENTION BRINGS MEETING TO DEADLOCK

Famous Physicist of Cambridge Dead

LORD RUTHERFORD

NOTED scientist and director of Cavendish Laboratory at Cambridge University, passed away at Cambridge last night. He was sixty-six years old.

PHYSICIST DIES AT CAMBRIDGE

Lord Rutherford was Eminent Scientist and Former Professor at McGill

CAMBRIDGE, Oct. 19 (P).—Lord Rutherford, one of the world's leading physicists and director of Cambridge University's famous Cavendish Laboratory for the past eighteen years, died today, aged sixty-six. Lord Rutherford was Macdonald professor of physics at McGill University, Montreal, from 1898 to 1907.

The eminent scientist, winner of the Nobel Prize for Chemistry in 1908, failed to rally from an abdominal operation.

He was a past president of the British Association for the Advancement of Science and of the Royal Society. Lord Rutherford had worked unobtrusively but intensively for more than thirty years on the problems of radio-activity, transmutation of elements and the splitting of the atom.

NATIVE OF NEW ZEALAND

The scientist, a native of New Zealand, was knighted in 1914, when he was known as Sir Ernest Rutherford. He was created a baron in 1931. In 1925 he received, from King George V, the coveted Order of Merit.

Lord Rutherford went to his Canadian position soon after completing his education at Cambridge. Earlier he studied at Nelson College, Canterbury and New Zealand University, all in New Zealand. After leaving McGill, he became Langworthy professor and director of the physics laboratories at the University of Manchester, holding that position until 1919, when he went to Cambridge to take the position he occupied at his death.

EDMONTON, Oct. 19 (P).—Senator W. A. Griesbach tonight told the annual meeting of the West Edmonton Conservative Association that Premier Aberhart's address here, last Sunday, indicated he is getting ready to "ditch" Social Credit and have his appeal to the electorate solely on the statement: "You haven't had to pay your debts while I was in power."

CHURCHILL CHEERED AT NAVY DINNER
LONDON, Oct. 19 (P).—Winston Churchill, First Lord of the Admiralty when the Great War broke out, brought cheers at the annual Navy League dinner tonight, when he said: "Perfect understanding and good will now prevail between the British and United States Admiralties."

LONDON, Oct. 19 (P).—Vernon Bartlett, diplomatic correspondent of The News Chronicle, charged in that paper today, Italy is marshalling a native army of 3,500,000 trained troops in its North-East African colonies, and carrying on a large-scale campaign aimed at gaining the support of the natives in British and French African possessions.

EXPENSE CUT IS APPROVED

Japan Government Economizing to Meet Cost of Chinese War

TOKIO, Oct. 19 (P).—The Cabinet approved today reductions of 202,000,000 yen (about $59,000,000) in Japanese Government expenses for the remainder of the fiscal year. The Finance Ministry asked the Cabinet to effect the savings, pleading urgent necessity for Japan to pull her financial belt a notch tighter to meet the cost of the fighting in China.

Japan must hold her financial trenches as well as drive her military machine in China, officials said. Two of her industrial giants, both members of the House of Peers, declared today Japan can go on indefinitely without danger of bankruptcy.

PREPARED TO PAY

They were Baron Seinozuke Goh, president of the Japan Economic League, and Ginrijo Fujihara, the "paper king." Both said Japan is prepared to pay as she goes and that her economic machinery is geared to bear the strain even if a third power should align itself with China and enlarge the Far East conflict.

Japan's financial problem, both said, pivots on the question of imports. Lacking raw materials, Japan

No Agreement On Action at Big Meeting

HYDE PARK, N.Y., Oct. 19 (P).—President Roosevelt asserted in a formal statement tonight the United States would enter the conference of signatories to the Nine-Power Treaty on the Sino-Japanese conflict "without any commitments on the part of this Government to other Governments."

The statement was generally accepted as a reply to a statement by Senator Johnson (Republican, California) hinting that the United States and Great Britain had agreed in advance on a programme of action.

TO DEMONSTRATE HER AIR POWER

France Sending Big Force of Planes to North Africa for Manoeuvres

PARIS, Oct. 19 (P).—France today decided to despatch more than eighty first-line planes to North Africa—the greatest air force ever sent to a French colony—for Fall manoeuvres demonstrating her air power to the empire.

The Air Ministry announcement of the overseas flight coincided with the Council of Ministers' decision making former Premier Albert Sarraut virtual dictator of North African administration, and a Radical Socialist party report charging Italian agitation among the Molesims.

PROPOSED PROGRAMME

"The Anglo-French programme proposes immediate withdrawal of volunteers, granting of belligerent rights after an international commission had reported foreign soldiers had been and were being withdrawn, and establishment of a system of control for supervising non-intervention in Spain."

The Italian move, supported by Germany and Portugal, threw the whole question back to the demand that granting of belligerent rights to both sides warring in Spain precede volunteer withdrawals.

Eden, presiding over the sub-committee session, asked Italian, German and Portuguese representatives to reconsider their position overnight.

He called another meeting for tomorrow afternoon and declared, if an agreement still was not sighted, Great Britain will have to consider her own course of action.

RUSSIA CONCILIATORY

Russia adopted a conciliatory attitude toward the current proposals. Her ambassador, Ivan Maitsky, declared if the British, French and

RANSOMED BUT NOT RELEASED

U.S. Federal Agents Have Taken Up Search for Ross Kidnappers

CHICAGO, Oct. 19 (P).—A nationwide hunt was pressed today for the kidnappers who collected $50,000 ransom but failed to release age Charles S. Ross.

Federal agents and state detectives hurried their full force into the search for the gang.

A trap similar to that set in the Lindbergh case was baited across the country. The Government sent a complete list of the serial numbers of 5,250 bills given the abductors to Department of Justice bureaus, police stations, newspapers, banks and business houses from coast to coast.

MAY BE PARALLEL

Some investigators held the belief the Ross case would prove a parallel to the Lindbergh tragedy with the ransom collected after the victim had died.

Chief of Detectives John L. Sullivan inclined to that theory. A double-time investigation was started at 8 a.m. today—the deadline fixed for Ross' delivery. The gangsters had been warned by Mrs. Ross if he had not been returned at that hour all law enforcement agencies would take the trail without further regard for her husband's safety.

Italian Government Imposes New Taxes For Colonial Costs

Heavy Levy Made on Capital of Stock Companies To Aid in Development of African Possessions — Seeks Foreign Investment

ROME, Oct. 19 (AP).—The Italian Cabinet imposed new taxes today to meet the cost of developing the African possessions and participating in the international arms race. It also sought to attract foreign capital into Italy by offering to exempt investors from inheritance taxes and guaranteeing that investments would not be expropriated in the event of war.

Another important action was the issuance of an order to organize a Fascist militia in East Africa, bringing resident Italians into the new legions so as to give "everyone a chance to do his Fascist duty."

Total revenue intended to be raised by the new taxes was not officially announced, but authoritative sources estimated 6,000,000,000 lira (approximately $315,000,000) would be realized within a year.

ASSESSMENT ON CAPITAL
Chief among the new taxes was an extraordinary assessment of 10 per cent on capital of stock companies which the Government asserted had for the most part profited through devaluation of the lira and had not been subject to such heavy taxes as others. This levy will be imposed only this year.

Other new levies included increased taxes on production, business transactions, sales and legal paper. The daily sojourn tax on tourists also will be increased. Increases in this group were expected to yield about 1,000,000,000 lira (approximately $52,000,000) annually.

Virginia Gayda, an authoritative writer, explaining the new taxes in the newspaper Il Giornale d'Italia, said the capital tax, plus 1,000,000,000 lira to be raised annually through the other levies, would insure a balanced budget for "two years."

EXPECTS BIG RETURN
The budget deficit is currently 3,500,000,000 lira. On the basis of Gayda's estimates, the Government expects to raise 5,000,000,000 lira through the capital tax.

The necessity for Italy's expenditure for war equipment resulted from "the programmes of other nations," a statement said.

The Cabinet's invitation to foreign investors provided that investments would have to be made before December 31, 1939, to receive exemptions from inheritance taxes.

JAPANESE START MAJOR OFFENSIVE

Chinese newspapermen were riding through Soochow en route to Nanjing. The airman riddled the cars with bullets. Havas said, but the occupants escaped harm by fleeing into an adjoining field.

Advices from Hangchow asserted repeated Japanese air raids on stations and passenger trains of the Hangchow-Shanghai line have killed or wounded more than 100 civilians within the past week. The report said none of the trains or stations contained war materials.

ADVANCE HALTED
Japan's war machine in North China was definitely slowed and in some places completely halted, Peiping reports said. Dispatches from Northern Shantung Province reported actual withdrawal of Japanese forces.

In Shansi Province, Japanese asserted they captured virtually all positions around strategic Sinchow Pass, about fifty miles north of Taiyuanfu.

Although Japanese bombing planes gave Nanking, China's capital, its most severe pounding of the month yesterday, the city's apprehensions of renewed night raids during the full moon apparently were baseless.

BOMB NANKING
Japan's heaviest air raiders, protected by pursuit planes, bombed the Nanking airfield in daylight, Tuesday. The explosion of demolition bombs rattled windows throughout the city.

According to a Chinese spokesman the heaviest fighting on the Shanghai front was in the Tazang sector, less than six miles northwest of Shanghai, which has become the most vital salient on that front.

Concentration on Tazang, Chinese declared, was a Japanese strategy to cut off Chinese supply lines to Shanghai, where Shanghai's defenders are entrenched on the northern edge of the International Settlement.

WELFARE WORK IS INVESTMENT

Frank Paulding Says Community Endeavor Benefits Human Beings

"By engaging in community welfare work, you are investing in yourself, in your community and in human beings, and there is no greater investment on the face of the earth, than the latter," Frank Paulding, general secretary of the Y.M.C.A., told members of the Credit Granters' Association in Spencer's dining-room yesterday.

Mr. Paulding took as the title of his address, "How the Community Chest Affects the Merchants of Victoria," and gave an enlightening account of the idea and organization behind this community project which is being instituted in Victoria this year.

In addition to stressing the benefits accruing to businessmen who take an active part in community welfare work, the speaker dealt with his subject under the following four headings: the possibility of tax relief, the financing of agencies, agency co-operation, and business control through the community chest.

OUTSTANDING BENEFIT
However, one of the outstanding benefits of the community chest, Mr. Paulding pointed out, was that it would spread the load of giving. Also, agencies seeking relief would have to go through the association, and since there was but one financial appeal, the businessman would not be called upon so often.

The organization in Victoria would be one of the cheapest to operate on the North American continent, Mr. Paulding believed. Administration and campaign costs would amount to only 5 per cent. Although it would naturally follow that administration costs would be proportionately higher for a smaller city than a larger one, this was not the case as far as Victoria was concerned, he said.

One of the major reasons for this, Mr. Paulding stated, was because through the co-operation of the Y.M.C.A., he was able to devote his full time to the community chest organization work at no cost to the community association. The speaker was introduced by L. W. Cox.

That Body of Yours

(By James W. Barton, M.D.)

YOUR BODY NEEDS PLENTY OF WATER

Generally speaking, most of us should drink about four to six glasses of water daily, in addition to the water in foods and in beverages such as tea and coffee.

Some idea of the great need of water in the body can be gathered if we remember that every cell is really like a tiny fish and must have water to nourish it and to receive and carry away its wastes.

Fortunately Nature had this in mind because every foodstuff, no matter how dry in appearance or taste, contains some water—peanuts as low as 8 per cent and lettuce as high as 90 per cent. Thus even if one drank no water whatever he could get sufficient in foods such as tomatoes, string beans, cabbage, carrots, apples, oranges and other fruits. Lean beef contains almost 80 per cent of water.

"Water is necessary to life for two main reasons—(1) because the chemical changes required to sustain life can take place only when the reacting substances are dissolved in water, and (2) because water is needed for flushing away the waste products formed from the various processes going on in the body." Thus the cells from a chick which Dr. Alexis Carrell has kept alive for nearly twenty years are enabled to grow and multiply only because they are kept in a tank of water containing a little salt, which nourishes the tissues and allows the waste products to escape into it. The water is, of course, changed periodically.

Water also regulates the body temperature, retaining heat in cold weather and carrying the heat out of the body in the form of perspiration during hot weather.

There is no hard and fast rule as to how much water or liquid an individual should drink daily. If there is a tendency to cold, a rise in temperature, an attack of diarrhoea or vomiting, severe bleeding or other condition causing a loss of water from the body, more water should be taken to replace it. Water is also very helpful at the beginning and during an illness in carrying wastes from the body more rapidly. A little salt added to the water enables the tissues to hold more water.

Overweight individuals do not need as much water as those of average weight, as fat tissue holds more water within it than do other tissues.

TEXAS—"FRIENDS, ALLIES"

"If I owned Texas and Hell, I would rent out Texas and live in Hell!"—General Philip H. Sheridan. There is a legend dating back to the Indians that Henry Hudson, sailing into New York Bay, looked around and sighting land in the water, inquired of his seamen, "Is do't in island?" And that is how Staten Island got its name.

Equally authentic is the tale that "at an early day some Spaniards traveling the Camino del Rey, between San Antonio and the Honda, camped on the Neches; and their commander, in the morning, beholding many spider-webs between himself and the rising sun, all spangled with dew drops and glittering like diamonds, joyfully exclaimed: 'Mira las tejas!'—that is to say, 'Look at the spider webs!'—and named the land Texas."

Lone Star State, of course, but Banner State, too, and State abounding in beef, blizzards and turbulence, and Jumbo State also, for it boasts a larger number of counties and acres than any other member of our union.

What a State, what a history, what a lot of stiff-necked, perturbation-bent for peace breed of whites settled there originally; for tiring quickly of being pushed around by the Indians, French, Spanish and Mexican bullies, they declared themselves The Texas Republic, and under Sam Houston as president, defied the cockeyed and embattled world to come and do something about it.

Early in its existence, the name New Philippines which had been bestowed upon its illimitable tracts while under Spanish domination was switched to Texas, after the Texas (from Tejas friendly, allied) redmen, tribes of Indians who originally inhabited the village so-called, and who had banded and bound themselves by pact to reciprocal aid.

Body of Man Who Led Two to Safety From Burning Hotel Found in Ruins

SHERBROOKE, Que., Oct. 19 (AP).—Possibility of a fifth victim of yesterday's $100,000 hotel fire here was removed tonight as authorities learned a Toronto salesman, hitherto listed as "missing," had been seen hours after the fire.

Today, firemen recovered the body of Stewart Grose, twenty-eight-year-old restaurateur, native of Calgary district, who led two persons to safety and then ran back into the burning building in search of his companion, Oslie Charlewood.

Burned beyond recognition, the body of Grose was identified by a ring he purchased from Roland Mathurin only last Saturday. The ring was scarred, but Mathurin recognized the stone.

Monolith Found in Fiji Group May Be Clue to Lost World

Swastika-Like Symbols Inexplicable to American South Sea Expedition—Native Legend Leads Scientists to Great Stone

NEW YORK, Oct. 19 (AP).—A clue to a lost world in the Pacific Ocean was announced here today by the Fahnstock South Sea expedition of the American Museum of Natural History. The clue is swastika-like symbols, some as big as windows, carved four inches deep in the face of a huge, forty-ton monolith apparently hewn by human hands from an immense boulder. It was discovered in the Fiji Islands.

There is nothing in the present South Sea peoples to explain the skill or tools which cut and carved this monolith. The symbols are not yet classed with any hieroglyphs or picture writing known.

The monolith, however, fills in an archeological trail running halfway across the Pacific Ocean, which points to two possibilities. One is a civilization which has disappeared. The other is a sunken continent.

usually called Mu, that once might have filled that part of the ocean.

TWO YEARS ON EXPEDITION
The discovery was made by Bruce and Sheridan Fahnstock, of Manhasset, N.Y. They sailed from here two years ago on the sixty-five-foot schooner Director. They returned today.

They found the monolith on the island of Vanua Levu. A native legend of a vast cataclysm in the past led them to the great stone. They heard this legend on a sister island, Viti Levu, thirty miles across deep water from the island of the monolith.

WINNIPEG MAYOR HERE FOR VISIT
On a brief visit to the city, Dr. F. E. Warriner, mayor of Winnipeg, arrived here yesterday afternoon with Mrs. Warriner. They were taken on a drive around the city, waterfront, uplands and to the drydock by Mayor Andrew McGavin. Dr. Warriner presented Mayor McGavin with a badge bearing the coat-of-arms of Winnipeg, the equivalent of a key to the city.

Dr. Warriner was impressed with Victoria, stating that he would like to become a permanent resident when he retired. Mrs. Warriner visited the city seven years ago, and it was at her suggestion that the present visit was made.

A resident of Winnipeg for twenty-four years, Dr. Warriner was elected mayor last November. He defeated John Queen, Socialist candidate, in a hotly contested campaign. He was a campaign manager for Colonel Ralph Webb, mayor of Winnipeg, for a number of years. Dr. Warriner will again be opposed by Queen for the mayoralty next month.

He flew to the Pacific Coast by air, and intends to leave this afternoon for Vancouver to fly to Seattle, Portland and Winnipeg.

Dr. Warriner stated that Winnipeg's $2,000,000 sewage disposal plant would be officially opened on Monday by himself and Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, who is making a special visit to Manitoba for the occasion.

STRIFE CAUSES UNITY IN CHINA

A. D. Macfarlane, K.C., Explains Japan's Attitude in Far East Trouble

In the course of the present trouble in the Orient, Japan has done more to bring about unity in China than the Chinese have been able to do since the fall of the Manchu dynasty. A. D. Macfarlane, K.C., declared before the Sunday evening Open Forum at the Chamber of Commerce, speaking on "Canada's Pacific Relations."

Outlining the work of the Institute of Pacific Relations, which he represented, the guest speaker stated that there was nothing left in the way of treaties or international law in the Far East, and it was evident that Japan did not regard herself as bound by international agreements, taking the attitude that affairs of the Far East were the concern only of China and herself.

Dealing with the Tanaka report, prepared in 1926 for the Emperor as a basis for a long-range policy of national planning for Japan, Mr. Macfarlane stated that this report, from purported translations given to the world, outlined a Japanese plan of campaign beginning with obtaining control of Manchuria, then in turn the Yangtze Valley, Canton, French Indo-China, and finally India. The moves made by Japan so far would tend to substantiate the authenticity of the versions of the Tanaka report, the speaker stated.

TWO DIVISIONS LAUNCH DRIVE

Enthusiastic Meetings of Community Chest Groups Held Last Night

Well in advance of the main Community Chest campaign, which will open on November 1, "E" Division last evening completed details for its canvass of the public services of the city and district which will begin today. This and a meeting of "B" Division, also held last night, indicated a most enthusiastic spirit among the workers.

The meeting took place at 6:15 at Spencer's dining-room, which will open on November 1, "E" Division last evening completed details for its canvass of the public services of the city and district which will begin today. This and a meeting of "B" Division, also held last night, indicated a most enthusiastic spirit among the workers.

PUBLIC SERVICES
Division "E" it was pointed out in the course of the meeting, will canvass the public services under four "payroll groups," comprising: (1), Government groups, both Provincial and Dominion; (2), the municipalities, Victoria, Oak Bay, Saanich, and Esquimalt; (3), education—high schools, public schools, etc.; and (4), the Navy and Army.

NATIONAL AIR HARBORS

One weakness in Canada's air policy is beginning to show up, and that is the anomaly of a blanket regulation under which the Dominion will give one-third of the cost of municipal airports, where necessary and where approved. Between Victoria and the Crow's Nest Pass there are a round dozen communities more or less on the Trans-Canada Airway. Some are mere villages, some growing towns, and others fairly large cities. How can a village afford two-thirds of the cost of a modern air field?

For larger centres the question of cost is serious enough, when sums to the amount of $300,000 may be required to establish permanent air facilities on the ground. For small centres such costs are entirely beyond their means, yet the exigencies of commercial flying may demand fully modern landing facilities in those centres. When one considers that air fields and airports, to say nothing of emergency landing fields, are the sky-docks of tomorrow, the question is one of importance.

In the upbuilding of marine harbors on Atlantic and Pacific Coasts, Canada wisely came to the aid of local authorities, realizing such facilities to be of national benefit and of international use. Is the status of the commercial airport of tomorrow any less so? Villages were not asked to build graving docks; should they be expected to produce fully modern airports? Those ports are necessary. There is both need and occasion for a clearer definition of what the Dominion will do on the whole matter. Flying has to be started from the ground up.

TELEVISION IN ENGLAND

London is the only city in the world where a television set may be purchased, and the price is as low as $215. Moreover, England is the only country where there are regular daily television programmes, and this is fitting since television was discovered there. The broadcast carries over a radius of 100 miles from the capital. Sets for visualizing scenes cost as high as $600, and their popularity is increasing. The higher priced have a combination television, radio and gramophone reproducer and differ from the ordinary combination by an oblong concave glass set in the front about a foot long and nine inches deep. That is the screen on which the pictures are shown and these bear a strong resemblance to talking pictures.

An orchestra is shown playing, or a news reel on which you see the captions and hear the commentator. There is a two-hour daily broadcast, or telecast, as it is called. Television is perhaps more educational than ordinary broadcasting since the performers must know their lines. They do not read them from script. Moreover, there must be appropriate stage settings and plenty of them. Television is expensive up to date, and so far more stations for its broadcast have not been built. There is only the one station—at Alexandra Palace. While there are 8,000,000 radio licence fees paid to the British Broadcasting Corporation there are only 5,000 television sets in use. It is now proposed that the holders of television sets should pay an extra licence. Some additional revenue must be provided if new features are to be staged for television and if it is to be made widely popular.

A WORK OF MERCY

It is just one hundred years ago that the first person, deaf, blind and dumb, to be educated started to school. She was a little girl of seven years who had lost hearing, sight and to a large extent the sense of smell by an attack of scarlet fever at two years of age. Her school was the newly established Perkins Institute for the Blind at Boston, U.S.A., her teacher, Dr. S. G. Howe. He taught her the alphabet by touch, by putting into her hands various articles labeled with the name in raised letters. She learned to read, to write with a pencil and kept a daily journal. After long years of patience on the part of pupil and teacher the heavily handicapped child became one of the most widely known women in the world. She was the forerunner of Helen Keller, but only the forerunner; for Laura Bridgman never learned to talk.

After Laura had been less than five years at this new style of schooling, Charles Dickens visited the institution and wrote enthusiastically of her in his American Notes. Read some forty-five years later, Dickens' story brought hope to the mother of Helen Keller, her sightless child, both deaf and dumb. Through the tuition of Miss Arne M. Sullivan, a graduate of Perkins, whose ability as a teacher must be considered almost as marvelous as the talent of her pupil, Miss Keller became a woman of culture, an author and a lecturer, and a striking illustration of the triumph of the human spirit over physical handicaps.

Modern education carries this triumph still farther. The former method of communicating with the person who is blind, deaf and dumb by the alphabet of the hand is being superseded. Within the past five years these triply handicapped children can be taught to understand and to speak without using mechanical appliances or manual signs. Vibration has become, as a writer in The New York Times explains, sight and sound for the deaf and blind. A pupil places his fingers on the teacher's throat where the vibrations can be felt, and his thumb against the lips to feel their formation. In this way he learns to hear. In teaching to speak—the much more difficult task—the child is shown how to form his lips and to hold his tongue to make the fundamental sounds. Through this forward step in educational science the child, both deaf and blind, can be trained to hear through vibrations and to build word meaning into their delicate variations.

A BAD DREAM

The Calgary Albertan is the one daily newspaper in Alberta supporting Social Credit. It carries at its masthead the words "A publicly-owned newspaper supporting Social Credit principles." It has, however, parted with the Albertan policies on the Government bill to muzzle the Press, legislation which it says ends the right and freedom which have been considered a part of the British Empire for more than 200 years. Of this legislation The Albertan says:

"The Bill is drastic. Forcing a newspaper, or any institution, to give publicity to propaganda is a new rule with implications so wide and so deep that the human imagination can hardly picture all the possible consequences. It might be that this Government would never use the Bill for violence against the rights of Canadians, but the Bill must be taken at face value, as it stands, and its power is almost limitless. It is against British principles and freedom, and indicates a trend in Alberta legislation too dangerous to contemplate."

The Albertan believes that the Aberhart Government has had more than a fair amount of criticism, but it thinks its best policy would have been "to show tolerance and patience and not give way to anger." This is an admission from the official organ of Social Credit in the province that the attempt to muzzle the Press is revenge for criticism. It does not mince language in its indictment of what is proposed when it says: "Laws against freedom of speech or expression are a first move to end democracy. Closing of the courts, curbing the Press in any way are sure indications of a trend. And there is nothing in civilization which can become so autocratic, so terrible, as a government agency set up in supreme control over courts and Press. To see this coming in the Province of Alberta would be like a bad dream: grotesque, fantastic."

CAUSE AND EFFECT

In the analysis of causes of motoring accidents alcohol has been found to play a significant part. Figures published for Cuyahoga County, of which Cleveland, Ohio, is the centre, relating to post mortem examinations in upward of 90 per cent of the 217 deaths caused this year up to the end of August, show that more than half those killed were under the influence of liquor at the time. Of the dead, 74 per cent were pedestrians, and six out of every ten of these were intoxicated when killed. Five out of ten of the drivers killed were intoxicated and more than half of the passengers who met death were in the same condition. Thus it appears that in any definite attempt that is made to lower the death toll of the roads some consideration, and perhaps major attention, must be given to the part that alcohol plays in the danger to life and limb, to say nothing of property.

In Bucharest the chief of police has suggested that citizens twice convicted of picking pockets should have their ears painted red. That is a simpler mark of distinction but not so lasting as in the past when criminals were marked by cutting off their ears. In commenting on the suggestion The London Times says: "By all means let the extremities of the underworld be painted; but let them be painted some color other than red." Obviously that newspaper does not like the passionately incarnadined hue now selected to stain extremities.

The League of Nations Society of Canada has sent to the Prime Minister texts of resolutions urging restoration of peace in Spain and China. Poor Mr. King, however, can do nothing about the matter, so it may be supposed that the representations will be pigeon-holed in the unending receptacles devised for a resolution-conscious world.

The ultimate result of shielding men from the effects of folly is to fill the world with fools.—Spencer.

Note and Comment

By Sandham Graves

The public is careless, there's no doubt about it. Why two men were arrested at Nelson the other day for taking a steam engine. After the engine had been broken up for scrap, someone thought about the owner. He was, it seems, quite annoyed. He had preferred it as a steam engine. I don't suppose they will ever get it together again. Scrap is scrap.

At Natal, B.C., a woman bit a nice fresh apple. She had hardly more than started, however, before she came on something hard in the apple. It turned out to be a small gold nugget about the size of the head of a pin. Commenting on the facts a country newspaper said it was a mystery how the nugget got under the skin of the apple. Consult your dentist, twice a year.

I consider it my duty to warn the public against wild and roving telephone posts. They are positively plentiful. One moment a telephone post may be growing peacefully at the side of the highway, and next instant it is out there on the centre of the road dancing a fandango. Ask any motorist. At Osoyoos, in the British Columbia hot belt, a pole did just that last week. The driver hadn't a chance. The pole actually followed him, sat down on his car, and broke it up.—All for nothing, too. He had not even been looking at the thing.

It is the same with railway tracks. They positively lure drivers to destruction. You'd think a train or a street car would be content to travel peacefully on its rails; but does it? Examine the car driver's report. He tells you in black and white the blame thing got off the rails and chased him up a side alley. What chance did he have? Absolutely none. So don't blame the driver, blame the scenery; it won't stay still.

Laughter can be cruel. At Olympia, Wash., it was reported that an earnest young bandit pointed a pistol at a girl behind the counter of a candy store. She started to scream, but saw it was only a cap pistol; so she laughed instead. She roared with laughter. The bandit blushed, his jaw dropped from chagrin (he recovered it) and fled. He was so unnerved by the experience that he walked right into the police station and gave himself up, cap pistol and all.

Our hunting season is progressing favorably. On the lower Mainland hunters have bagged an eighteen-year-old-boy. He looked like a peasant. In the central interior someone put a bullet through the window of a railway foreman's home, and smashed the gift vase he had been trying to break for years without any luck. At Prince George, in the North, they shot both heels off another hunter, who got in the way as some one was unloading a shotgun. I still think the Attorney-General, who is hunting this week, should fix bag limits. Two heels are a bit stiff.

Members of the Eighteenth and Nineteenth Legislatures know, and like, Dr. J. J. Gillis, who runs a hospital, a successful practice and a fox farm at Merritt. Well, a few weeks ago a 225 pound black bear raided his creamery, consumed a tremendous quantity of milk and cream, and staggered off up the hillside, with a milk can firmly wedged over his fuzzy ears and stubborn head. The bear crashed into the mountain side, flying blind as it were, and a hunter got him. Another bear, larger, was shot in the back yard of a Kelowna farmer. It is believed that bear was after cider.

"The Department of Recreational and Physical Education" has reopened its centre in Mission, up-country papers report. As one puts it, "giving everyone an opportunity to participate, to improve their figure, posture, digestion, and general well-being, free of charge." That is all very well, too; but it is not free of charge. The cost this year is around $40,000, and there is a reported shortage of skilled businessmen to keep the classes going.

Blasting for road repairs on the Nanaimo Road disturbed the lake-serpent in Okanagan Lake last week, according to well-authenticated reports. Road gangs up on the hillside eating their lunch saw the monster rushing through the water "at a speed estimated between thirty and one hundred miles an hour." The monster was "larger than any bird, but watchers, being some distance away, could not make out its exact shape." The lunches were plain, too, without lobster or anything that would excite the imagination.

"In this new world, because of the enormous productive capacity of modern power machinery, it will be possible for every person to have an abundance of goods and services at a minimum expenditure in human effort, between the ages of twenty-five and forty-five, for about four hours a day, four days a week. Those under twenty-five would be engaged in securing an education . . . and those above the work limit of forty-five would live a life of leisure, with a technocratic income until death," the chief of the Technocrats told an audience at Trail last week. He repeated that his about chisels and snickers, too; but somewhere there seems a catch in it. The chisels would want to stop work at thirty-five, I bet you. Riley would have heard of this one; he thought he was doing well. However, the Technocrats are coming here, so make up your mind: are you a chiseler or a snicker, or can there be possibly a third division of human nature that someone has overlooked?

Careless Mistake

Last Sunday's issue of a large New York tabloid contained a photograph of President Franklin D. Roosevelt and Lieut.-Governor Eric W. Hamber titled "A Good Neighbor Visit." Five lines under the photograph referred to the President's visit "to Vancouver." The photograph was taken by a well-known Seattle press photographer, a man famous for his camera portraits. Perhaps he had no idea where he was when he arrived here with his trusty camera. Or did he think Victoria was merely a suburb of Vancouver? Police complain that the majority of motorists cannot remember the number of their automobiles when they visit the station to report accidents or theft of machines. Every motorist should carry the number of his automobile, engine serial number and other data in his pocketbook. . . . Last Sunday a bluecoat visited Cowichan Bay prepared to land quantities of grise. Later in the day two of his friends saw him negotiating the purchase of three fish from a Chinese. He probably regrets it is impossible to purchase venison. . . . It is interesting to note there are always far more articles lost than found.—G.B.

Glancing Over Sport

Here's a suggestion to the City Parks Board. Before the next soccer match at Heywood Avenue, it would be an excellent idea to have the field thoroughly rolled. At last Saturday's game the players found it difficult to control the ball on the bumpy pitch. . . . So it appears certain now that Tony Lazzeri, former shortstop of the champion Yankees, is going to do work around the keystone sack in Wrigley Field for the Chicago Cubs next season. . . . Rumors of a well-founded nature have it that Jimmy Fox, Red Sox first baseman, will be with the Cleveland Indians next season. . . . The A.A.U. is losing a lot of customers as the days go along. Every now and then a dispatch comes over the wire that some association or other has broken away from the amateur association. . . . Orilla Terriers, dethroned as champions of the lacrosse world by the Salmonbellies, arrived home on Monday and there wasn't a soul at the train to greet them. Funny how people treat champions and ex-champions. It's the same old story in sport: you are either a bum or a hero. . . . Rogin, former Windsor cage star, made his debut in local basketball as expected. He didn't let the cash customers down and raced through for thirteen points in the first half, the only period he was on the floor.—J.D.

Stick 'Em Up!

We've heard a terrible lot of bad things about the city of Vancouver. You know about burglars and bandits and whatnot who roam the streets at night, but an item from the Mainland city seems to take the cake. It is the report of two "baby bandits," aged less than ten years, who robbed a little girl of an armful of groceries and her change purse. These must be the highwaymen of tomorrow serving their apprenticeships.—W.I.F.

Youth Steps Out

There have been annual meetings of various political associations in this city recently, and it has been good to go there, and to observe that there is a fast-growing number of young men and young women to be seen among the rank and file of the two major parties. . . . There was a time, not long since, when youth in politics, a circumstance that Pitt the Younger once admitted was beyond his control, was almost an indelible offence. It is not so today. The boy and the girl of twenty-one have tumbled to the fact that they have a vote, and that it is equally as potent a weapon as the vote of men and women twenty or forty years older. . . . There is a renaissance of interest in the affairs of government by the youth of this city, and this observer believes it is all to the good.—B.G.

Square All Round

After many years of recording the day by day events of this and other places we have come face to face with a lecturer honest enough to concede his lecture was uninteresting and not suited to his audience. In fact, the lecturer told his audience he did not intend going any farther, closed his notes and resumed his seat. It happened at a club meeting Monday night and, as there was no comment from the members of the audience, it was accepted the lecturer and audience were satisfied with the motion to adjourn.—R.A.G.

No letter to the Editor will be inserted except over the proper signature and address of the writer. This rule admits of no exception. No letter should exceed 500 words in length.

TOWARDS ECONOMY

Sir—I am thoroughly in accord with Alderman Archie Willis' idea of a conference of representatives from the City, Oak Bay, Esquimalt and Saanich, to discuss the possibility of having one Fire Department and one Police Department for Greater Victoria. To my mind it would mean greater efficiency without, so far as I can see, any increase in our taxes: on the contrary. The different municipalities would still retain their individuality for other purposes of public administration, and it would tend to reduce the friction that sometimes arises, with its accompanying ill effects. I might say I am not in favor of a Greater Victoria and doing away with the municipalities.

H. H. CULLIS.

IMMIGRATION

Sir—That Canada is suffering from want of population at least ten times greater than we at present muster is a foregone conclusion. That our system of government, through its high cost of administration, is directly responsible for this rotten state of affairs ends in a like conclusion.

That the opportunities offering for enormous and profitable development along many lines can easily be proven to the entire satisfaction of British or any other industrialists, always provided they are sufficiently interested in securing all necessary data. The writer can mention quite a few opportunities on Vancouver Island where the elements never block industrial effort any day in the year.

To discuss immigration in the sense of importing people to live and compete among us, even though they be financially backed for a given period of time, is at best a mere palliative, and must eventually increase our already much overburdened cost of administration.

Industrial development is the only real solution, and it is a certainty the capitalists from all over the world will quickly show a more than passing interest provided the Federal authorities will offer them decent immunity by way of a fixed tax on earnings for a sufficiently long period to be agreed upon, and, of course, see to it that their countless minions have no power to dig a dig at them at all.

Such development will populate the country speedily enough, with high-class artisans and able-bodied helpers simply because the industrialist very naturally will employ no others. In return for the concession granted by our authorities, the employer must pay an hourly wage to all employees whatsoever, equivalent at all times to the then cost of decent living (which, by the way, is rising all too rapidly), and when such a wage to be earned is paid, not only will unemployment dwindle, but the walking delegate, agitator, pest, or what you will, must perforce go to work or seek more fertile ground whereon to mix his or her potentially poisonous brew.

PEACE AND DEMOCRACY

Sir—The impossibility of the task Mr. Neil Butler has set himself is so evident that we look forward to his early retirement from the correspondence columns. May we again simply state that the League for Peace and Democracy is composed of people representing all shades of political opinion gathered together for the purpose of furthering peace and democracy.

Would it be too embarrassing for Mr. Butler to admit the inspiration and source of the "Young Citizens' League," and why in the name of humanity he sees fit to oppose the legitimate desires of the Canadian people for peace and democracy? Our League is sponsoring a Peace Conference to be held in Vancouver on October 30-31. Attending the conference will be Church and Peace groups, Labor, political groups, women, youth and educational groups. In order to guide the deliberations of the conference a "peace ballot" is to be taken throughout British Columbia, and the public may vote: (1) "My sympathies lie with the League of Nations and Collective Security" or "Isolation and Self-Sufficiency." (2) "The Loyalists" or "The Rebels." (3) "The Chinese" or "The Japanese," with space for brief comment.

In addition to our League are others who have joined in an appeal for peace in British Columbia. Here-with are a few: Percy R. Brougham, first vice-president T. & L. Congress of Canada; Dr. W. J. Black, Professor of Education, U.B.C.; Rev. Gordon; Rabbi Samuel Cass; Professor Clark, U.B.C.; Rev. A. E. Cook; A. Holmes, editor, Highland tion in all quotations, I would ask my readers to fit the quotations to the organization under its present name.

My word or personal experience in the matter can bear little weight, and so I shall devote the greater part of my letters to the observations of more qualified persons.

In the July, 1937, issue of The American Mercury, H. L. Mencken has the following to say about the organization in question: "The Reds not only blow hot and cold in the matter of free speech; they also blow hot and cold in every other matter which they presume to discuss. They condone in Russia not only all the relatively mild tyrannies which they bellow against in this country; they also condone there all the large and intolerable tyrannies which horrify them in Italy and Germany. . . . They have ruined with their incurable dishonesty every good cause that they have ventured to touch. Entering under false colors such organizations as the Civil Liberties Union and the various societies against war, they have brought them all under suspicion, and will wreck them soon or late. The Pacific movement, indeed, is already wrecked. . . ."

"One of the noisiest of its (Communist Party) agencies does not bother to attempt any disguise, it calls itself the League Against War and Fascism (League for Peace and Democracy), and by Fascism it only too plainly means any system of government differing from the Asiatic despotism of the Moscow Utopia. . . ."

As I do not wish to bore your readers, I have reserved my more potent and damaging facts for a following letter.

NINE-POWER PACT

Sir—At the last general meeting of the Victoria branch of the Inlandboatmen's Union of the Pacific the following resolution was endorsed unanimously. May we, through your columns, pass on this suggestion to the other bodies of organized labor and to all those people to whom peace and democracy really mean something, appealing for its endorsement.

"Whereas Japanese Imperialists have burst into China, bringing with them war, destruction of hospitals, churches and universities, and whereas, by murder, violence and plunder, they hope, to add China to their list of colonies for purposes of exploitation, and whereas the Canadian people cannot stand idly by while Fascist aggression brings the clouds of war nearer day by day. Therefore be it resolved that this meeting go on record as being strongly in favor of the invocation of the Nine-Powers Pact, instead of the Neutrality Pact, which has proven its utter futility in Spain. And further, we appeal to and pledge our support to maritime workers refusing to supply or handle munitions or other supplies to Japan until all Japanese forces are withdrawn from China. And further, that we invoke economic sanctions against the three aggressor nations, namely, Japan, Italy and Germany, as provided in the Nine-Power Pact, by placing all their merchandise on the "We Do Not Patronize List."

Thanking you on behalf of the organization for giving this letter publicity in your paper.

GARBAGE-LITTERED BEACHES

Sir—Why is nothing done to prevent garbage-littered beaches? People's opinions on this unwelcome nuisance are frequently expressed in letters to the press in understandable disgust, and yet the offence continues. The cry of "No Funds" is well known, but it should be the immediate aim of the city fathers to find some way other than the present to prevent this plague of garbage backwash. Why does not our city health officer bring his influence to bear on this condition.

BOMB CAUSE
OF LOST EYEResident of Shanghai Suffered Severe Injuries
On August 14

First casualty to reach Victoria from the Sino-Japanese undeclared war front, R. Montague-Smith, arrived here yesterday morning aboard the Ss. Empress of Japan. Mr. Montague-Smith received his injuries on August 14, when the motor car he was driving was wrecked by a bomb fragment at the corner of King Edward VII Avenue and Tibet Road, Shanghai.

Mr. Montague-Smith, reluctant to say much about the affair, nevertheless felt he was fortunate in escaping more serious or fatal injuries. He was assisting in the evacuation of refugees from China into the International Settlement when his car was hit. On arrival here his right eye socket was covered with a black shade and his right arm was in a sling.

The wounded traveler suffered severe concussion when hit, as well as the loss of his eye and the possible use of his arm and shoulder. He continued to Vancouver on the liner, but stated he would return to Victoria and expected to spend some time in a local hospital before proceeding to London. He was accompanied by W. R. Meathrel, also of Imperial Chemical Industries, Limited.

PLACED UNDER BAN

Travelers arriving here yesterday on the Canadian Pacific liner Ss. Empress of Japan mentioned the efforts being made by Japan to prohibit certain imports, and particularly motion pictures. No more foreign movies, newsreels excepted, they stated, will be allowed to enter the country during the rest of this year. Foreign exchange must be reserved for essentials, the Finance Ministry declares, and the products of Hollywood and other foreign movie centres are not regarded as necessary for successful termination of the campaign in China.

Only a short time ago, the distributors of foreign films were notified that they would require licences for films shipped to Japan after a certain date. The leading distributors are understood to have some fifty films in stock, enough to last until the end of the year. Arrangements for film imports after January 1 have yet to be made, but it is understood there will be no restoration of full freedom. As a result, the people of Japan will have to endure a shortage of movies.

CANADIAN AVIATOR

R. B. Jackson, a Canadian aviator who has been advising the Siamese Government on aviation matters, returned to Canada yesterday on the Ss. Empress of Japan. He will spend some time in Vancouver, and expects to return to Bangkok about the first of the year.

Mr. Jackson spoke about the wonderful progress of civil aviation in the Far East. A few years ago there was no regular air service connecting Siam with other countries, particularly Europe.

A number of modern planes, controlled by Aerial Transport Company, are also operating between different points in Siam.

Miss Lydia Huff, regent of Beta

Sigma Phi Sorority, Roanoke, Virginia, and Miss Christine Simpson, society editor of The Bellingham Herald, came back from Honolulu yesterday morning on the Empress of Japan. They traveled to the Islands on the Ms. Aorangi with a party of thirty members of the sorority, for the purpose of inaugurating a chapter at Honolulu. The Hawaiian newspapers called it a "ramble for romance."

There are 620 chapters of Beta Sigma Phi, 1,100 members being in the United States and Canada, Miss Huff told newspapermen.

F. J. Francis, tour agent of Bognor Regis, England, is pioneering a path in world cruising which may prove popular with travelers who want to see as much as possible of the world in the shortest possible time. He arrived here yesterday on the Japan from the Orient, accompanied by an Englishwoman whom he is accompanying on a unique steamship-airways-rail tour. They expect to reach Southampton, the port they left in England, just forty-three days after the date of departure. Leaving Southampton by Imperial Airways, September 16, they visited Rome, Alexandria, Baghdad, Karachi, Calcutta and Burma for overnight stops, reaching Singapore on the seventh day, where they embarked by steamer and joined the Empress of Japan at Hongkong.

AN ORDERLY CITY

The important railway junction point, Tientsin, which for several months has been under control of the Japanese military, is really an orderly place, stated Mrs. T. T. Faichney, wife of the pastor of the United Church of Canada there. Her husband accompanied her from Tientsin to Kobe and later returned to the Chinese city to resume his work as head of the only church ministering to members of the Protestant faith. It is the "original United Church," she said, "in that it serves many nationalities."

The Japanese, she stated, have taken over the Chinese railways which are still staffed officially by British technicians. Mrs. Faichney was accompanied by two sons and is on her way to her old home in Toronto.

Made Gas Masks in Shanghai

MISS M. KAY LEW

Daughter of the Chinese consul-general at Seattle, who arrived here yesterday on the Empress of Japan, was a student in China when the trouble began over there. She quit her studies and spent some time making gas masks, and stated all Chinese girls are eager to help in the defence of China against the Japanese aggressor. She was glad to get back to America and her mother and father, who came here to meet the boat. An uncle of Miss Lew is Seto More, C.P.R. passenger agent at Vancouver.

der charter to British Columbia Shipping Company, Ltd., to load logs and lumber for Australia, will not arrive here until some time in November, having been drydocked for crankshaft repairs.

Aid of Other Cities for Air Mail Service

VANCOUVER, Oct. 19 (C)—Mayor G. C. Miller today was empowered by his City Council to secure co-operation of other cities from San Francisco north, in attempts to secure a Yukon-Alaska air mail route through Vancouver.

The City Council's action, taken yesterday, followed statements by Alderman H. D. Wilson, chairman of the civic airport committee, that Alberta cities had banded themselves in an association to press for a route through Lethbridge and Edmonton.

"We have already taken a stand in favor of the Coast route," Alderman Wilson said, "but Alberta cities have gone farther. Through their mayors and councils they have formed the 'Sunshine Air Route Council.'"

"Unless we take similar steps and make efforts to place the case before the other cities on the Pacific Coast, we may lose out," he said.

Ship Venture

HALIFAX, Oct. 19 (C)—The three-masted schooner Venture, built as a training ship for the Canadian Navy, appeared to be "nobody's child" today.

The schooner was "arrested" before she left the dockyard of John P. Deveau, of Meteghan, N.S., on the claim of Bentley & Flemming, Halifax spar makers, for payment for her three masts.

Today the Venture lay at the Naval Dockyard, although she has not been taken over officially by the Navy. It was predicted her status probably would be decided in Admiralty Court. She was the first schooner built for the Canadian Navy for training purposes, and was launched at Meteghan last June.

RADIO SHOWROOMS ARE BUSY DURING RADIO SHOW WEEK

Local Dealers Make Comprehensive Display of 1938 Radio Receiving Sets—Many Improvements Found in New Models—Automatic Tuning Is Biggest Feature This Year

THIS week, proclaimed as Radio Show Week in Victoria, has been a busy one for radio dealers throughout the city. Visitors have been flocking to the showrooms of each store, eager to see and compare the new 1938 models which are now on display. In announcing the arrival of the new sets in this manner, the dealers have aimed at giving the public the opportunity to see and compare this season's offering in radio receiving sets as a comprehensive whole and thus to gain a full knowledge of the tremendous advance achieved by engineers and technicians.

SPECTACULAR ADVANCE
One of the most spectacular advances found in this year's models is the development of automatic tuning. Previously acknowledged to be a coming feature but hardly perfected, it has this year become accepted as the equipment of practically every one of the better sets, regardless of make. It takes different forms, of course, presented under various names, but the underlying principle is the same. The owner of a radio so equipped is able to tune into any one of a number of pre-selected stations, instantly, accurately and with only the turn of a dial or the pressure of a button. Simplicity, reliability and absolute precision are assured.

Remote control, whereby the radio may be changed from station to station with the same accuracy as with use of the ordinary dial, is offered through the feature of armchair control. Better short-wave reception and easier tuning is found in the new dials, practically all with "band-spread tuning," requiring less manipulation to gain the desired programme with greater selectivity.

LOVELY CABINETS
This year's lines of 1938 radios include an unusually wide range of cabinet models. New beauty is found in the graceful designs, blending harmoniously with the trend of modern cabinet work, with rich contrasting inlays of different woods giving distinction.

Typical among the displays put on by the different dealers is that found in the radio department of the Hudson's Bay Company. The new RCA Victor line, featuring the electric tuning, is one of the major features. Offered in a complete range of models that include the little four-tube mantel set to the sixteen-tube electric tuning model, these radios include all the proven Victor features plus such advances as the oversize dial, which makes short wave tuning much easier, with super-band spread mechanism providing a separate scale eight inches long for each of the popular short-wave bands. The improved magic brain, magic eye, super-fidelity loudspeakers and wide frequency coverage combine to bring Victor reception in every model up to a new high standard. Included among the lines they display are De Forest Crosley, Majestic and Dictator radios.

RCA VICTOR
Kent's Music Store, 641 Yates Street, has made an outstanding showing of the complete line of RCA Victor, Rogers, Spanton, Philco, Stromberg-Carlson and Phonola radios. In the Stromberg-Carlson an exclusive feature is found in the "acoustic labyrinth," which is designed to take the unnatural boom from radio reception, providing deep bass notes with new fidelity. The long winding passageway of the "labyrinth" is lined with a special acoustical material and takes the place of the more usual box-like cavity in the cabinet, which in many cases is the source of boom in the low tones. Automatic tuning is found under the name of "flash" tuning, giving visual automatic station finding. Automatic frequency control gives a high degree of accuracy to flash tuning.

Kent's Music Store, 641 Yates Street, has made an outstanding showing of the complete line of RCA Victor, Rogers, Spanton, Philco, Stromberg-Carlson and Phonola radios.

MOUNT DOUGLAS ROAD PROPOSED

City Asks Development of Goldstream Area as Park in Relief Work

Construction of a new road to the top of Mount Douglas as an employment relief undertaking under Provincial direction, was suggested to the Provincial Government this week by the City of Victoria. The city also proposed development of part of the Goldstream watershed as a park. Both projects were suggested in continuation of development done by forestry crews last winter at Thetis Lake and elsewhere.

The proposals brought out the fact that the Province is contemplating a resumption of relief camp projects for single unemployed men this winter, and is now collecting data in all areas as to what express work can be done with advantage. As the limits of the programme have not yet been set, however, no decision has been reached on any project, it was learned on good authority. Sources close to the Government said that the suggestion of a road to the top of Mount Douglas might find favor when the new relief programme is brought down, but that the development of the Goldstream area as a park was not considered so suitable.

Pending approval of a programme of relief works, now under advisement, neither Provincial nor city sources would comment on the suggestions known to have been made by the city to the Government this week.

May Sell Poppies—The Oak Bay School Board has granted the Remembrance Day committee permission to sell poppies in the schools of that municipality.

Car Stolen—Oak Bay police yesterday reported theft of a 1936 maroon-colored sedan automobile from the garage on H. L. Beaven's property, Uplands. Licence number of the machine is 4-739.

Special Service—Mayor Andrew McGavin and aldermen have been invited to attend the annual Remembrance Day service in Christ Church Cathedral at 3 o'clock on the afternoon of Sunday, November 7.

New Member—Cyril Wightman was introduced by Col. F. Brooke Stephenson as a new member of the Kiwanis Club at the weekly luncheon gathering yesterday, and was welcomed by Walter M. Walker, president.

Inquest Today—An inquest into the death of Mrs. Mary Isabel Carr, found dead Monday afternoon in her home at 2854 Inlet Avenue, Saanich, will be conducted by Dr. E. C. Hart, coroner, in McCall Bros' Funeral Home at 10 o'clock this morning.

Postpones Action—The case of G. W. Hale vs. Carl Henry, a dispute concerning a boat, which was to have come before the County Court judge yesterday for trial, has been postponed until next week. W. H. Bullock-Webster appears for the plaintiff, and Stuart Henderson for the defendant.

Constable Succumbs—Headquarters of the Provincial Police reported with regret yesterday the death of Constable Thomas Byatt, of the Courtenay detachment of the force, but formerly stationed here with "A" Division. He is survived by his widow and four children, and had been a popular member of the force for nine years.

Missionaries Safe—The following message has been received here from Rev. Canon Gould, general secretary, M.S.C.C., for the relatives and friends of missionaries in Honan, China: "It gives me great pleasure to say I have received the following cable from Miss Watts, secretary of our Honan mission: 'There is no cause for anxiety—all are quite safe.'"

Express Regret—Members of the Twentieth Century Young Liberals stood in silence at their meeting last night as a tribute to the memory of the late Hon. Dr. S. F. Tolmie. Proposing a vote of sympathy with the bereaved family, Miss A. Hannay said Dr. Tolmie had endeared himself to the hearts of everybody in Victoria. Throughout his political career, he had worked for the citizens and had served Victoria faithfully and well.

Say Mineral Present—Dr. J. F. Walker, provincial mineralogist, commenting yesterday on the reported discovery of kyanite near Cedarside, B.C., said that departmental records showed presence of the mineral in the Peace area. If the deposit were in commercial quantities, it might presage development of a new phase of non-metallic minerals in the Province. Dr. Walker said. The department itself had not yet received advice on the reported find.

Company Expands—In line with their recently announced programme of wider production, Central Films Ltd. have taken over another building at the Willows, devoted during Fair time to housing rabbit classes. Two buildings will be used by the carpentering department of the company. Announcement of the expansion was made yesterday by Kenneth J. Bishop, president. The next production of the company will begin November 1.

Tribute to Dr. Tolmie—At a meeting of Oak Bay Conservatives this week, the gathering stood in silent tribute to the memory of the late Hon. Dr. S. F. Tolmie. Exception was taken to criticism of Conservative reorganization in the Dominion; and plans laid to assist in bringing the Federal voters' list up to date in view of the forthcoming by-election. Brigadier J. Sutherland Brown presided at a well-attended meeting. Wards Six and Seven will meet again on November 1, at St. Mary's Hall.

Charged With Theft—When J. H. Dunn appeared in the city police court yesterday on a charge of having stolen a camera and other articles under the value of $25, he offered the suggestion that he was ready to enter a plea on possession of the goods. The accused was informed by Magistrate H. C. Hall that possession of stolen goods was not the charge entered against him.

Old Fraser Home Here to Make Way for Modern Structure

Following the maxim that the old must make way for the new in the growth of a city, the Fraser residence, which for nearly forty years has stood on the northeast corner of Douglas and Broughton Streets, is in the course of demolition, and the site of this fine old dwelling is to be cleared for the erection of a modern office building. Two other small buildings on the same site, one occupied by a cleaning concern and the other by a taxi company, are also to be removed in the near future, and it is understood that the new building, the type and design of which will be announced later, will be constructed very shortly after the clearing of the lot.

WAS FAMILY HOME

Regarded as one of the best constructed homes in Victoria, the two-story red brick Fraser residence, with its timber porch and balconies, was built for the late Dr. R. L. Fraser, whose death occurred ten years ago. Dr. Fraser was one of the best known medical practitioners in the city, and for many years maintained his office in the building, on the side fronting Douglas Street.

In this sturdy residence, Dr. Fraser's son, Dr. Allan W. Fraser, and daughter, Mrs. R. F. Castle, grew up, but in 1913 the family moved to their new home at the corner of Rockland Avenue and St. Charles Street, though Dr. Fraser continued to maintain his office and consulting room in his former residence.

The Fraser residence stood at the outskirts of Victoria's business section when it was first erected, and at that time Broughton Street was known as Kane Street. The only buildings close to the residence were St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church and the old Union Club, now the clubrooms of the Veterans of France.

HANDSOME WOODWORK
Fine old timbered ceilings and panelings, massive fireplaces, and handsome "doors, stairway and stained glass windows are featured which lend dignity to the once family home, which now rings only under the hammers of the breakers. Panels and timbering are in perfect state of preservation, and were it not for the march of progress, the building might stand for a great many years.

The contract for the tearing down of the house has been let to William Hyde by the Royal Trust Company, agents for owners of the property, which, it will be recalled, was recently sold for $30,000. It is anticipated that the demolition work will take sixty days.

EXPENSE CUT IS APPROVED

must buy in world markets and meet bills from abroad. The financial leaders said the Government's solution has three major phases:

THE SOLUTION

1. Reduced home consumption: "For example, when our present stocks of wool are gone, we will do without."
2. Increased gold production: "We expect, this year, to mine about $58,000,000 in gold. In two years, according to our estimates, the Empire will be producing around $145,000,000. It is part of the Government's plan to use this increasing gold yield for balancing international accounts."

PRODUCTIVITY INCREASING

3. Expansion and substitution: "Our productivity is increasing tremendously. The next two years—three at most—will see a sharp reduction in the amount of iron Japan must import. We may even reach self-sufficiency. To a lesser degree, the same is true of cotton. And we are finding substitutes for materials we must now import—pulp, for example."
At this moment, however, Japan's international trade balance shows about $250,000,000 in "red ink." Commodity prices are rising. Taxes have gone up. Circles report difficulty maintaining the yen.

Postal inspectors and Bureau of Air Commerce representatives visited or prepared to visit the scene of the disaster. At Washington, D.C., Secretary of Commerce Roper appointed an investigation board of three, which will hold its first meeting at Salt Lake City on Saturday. The weather, at least a contributory

On advice from Victoria office, a warrant is being requested for one captain only, to be in the name of Mrs. G. Lomas. Several new uniforms, badges, etc., are needed to outfit the guides for enrollment, and the secretary was empowered to order these and also the necessary Brownie items. Attention was drawn to the need of new ties, and other items of Brownie uniform, but owing to lack of sufficient funds, an endeavor will be made to renovate as much as possible, new uniforms, etc., only being procured for those who have not yet been equipped. Brownie and guide enrollment will take place on Tuesday, November 9, and the committee will serve refreshments. The Brownie cup will be presented.

Included among its passengers were a bank president, an expectant mother, a noted pathologist and two newswire men making a picture of the safety of transcontinental flying.

Pilot Earl Woodger, who had been flying through rain and fog, made a routine report over Rock Springs, Wyo., 175 miles northeast of Salt Lake City—the last word on the ship's whereabouts. Fourteen hours later a fellow pilot, Bob Bergesen, member of a large aerial searching party, sighted the wrecked craft.

Another pilot, Ralph Johnson, after an all-night climb, was the first today to reach the crumpled plane from the ground and to determine definitely that all its occupants were dead.

Missionary From India Is Speaker

Mrs. W. D. Reid, Montreal, was the guest-speaker at the Metropolitan W.M.S. Annual Thanksgiving meeting on Monday. At one time a missionary in India, Mrs. Reid's subject was "Women's Debt to Christianity," and she made a deep impression on her audience with the sincerity and simplicity of her treatment of the theme.

Women in Christian countries, she said, could have no conception of the debt they owed to Christianity until they saw for themselves the terrible conditions under which the women and girls of India and similar countries had lived and were still living. Girls were in many places not wanted, and from the time of their birth their lot was hard. Particularly pitiable was the life of the girl widow, several stories concerning which Mrs. Reid cited as coming within her own personal observation. She did, however, add a cheering note by telling of lives reclaimed and of ignorance and suffering dispelled. In conclusion she urged her audience to continue their support of the mission by their offerings and prayers.

REPORTS GIVEN

The meeting was convened by Mrs. W. R. Seeley. Mrs. W. E. Harper reviewed the opening chapter of the new study book, "A New Church Faces a New World," emphasizing the remarkable features in the pioneer work of the church. Mrs. J. Bate, Mrs. E. Akhurst, and Mrs. J. P. Hicks all took part in the programme, the last giving an account of her visit to the W.C.T.U. convention in Washington, D.C. Reports were given by Miss F. Brak, recording secretary; Miss E. Hart, treasurer; Mrs. F. T. Cluff, for the sick-visiting (seventy-seven calls were made on sick and strangers); and Mrs. Akhurst read a letter from the Presbyterian secretary on Christian Stewardship. Miss Baker read a request from a West Coast missionary asking for used carpets, rugs, and gramophone records.

The musical part of the programme consisted of a duet by Mrs. E. Parsons and Miss Dorothy Parsons, with Mrs. Rae Baker at the piano. A bouquet was presented to Mrs. J. H. Welch with birthday felicitations.

Mrs. W. R. Seeley, W. H. Whitley, W. L. Smith, G. D. Christie, and W. J. Cullum were chosen as conveners for the nomination of a new executive. The president, Miss G. Baker, was in the chair.

Ganges W.A.

Woman's Auxiliary to the Anglican Church was held at Ganges House. In the absence of the president, Mrs. H. Moorhouse, the chair was taken by the vice-president, Mrs. C. H. Popham. The vicar, Rev. C. H. Popham, was present during the early part of the meeting, which he opened with special prayers for the president and reading from the Scriptures. The treasurer reported the sum of $63.32 in hand. Mrs. S. P. Beech gave a report of the whist drive held recently in the Mahon Hall, Ganges, and stated that after all expenses had been paid, there was a balance in hand of $21.25. Arrangements were made to hold a musical evening on Wednesday, November 17, at Harbor House, Ganges, this programme to be drawn up by Mrs. G. B. Young and Mrs. W. M. Palmer, refreshments to be in charge of Mrs. W. Norton, assisted by Mrs. Byron and Miss Beddis. On this occasion the community chest will be presented to the winner, and the attractive bedspread made by Mrs. W. T. A. Burditt, will be given as second prize. Mrs. Beech promised a Tea hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Popham and Mrs. W. Norton.

Baptist Women's Union

The Women's Union of the First Baptist Church held its monthly meeting in the schoolroom of the church on Monday evening, the president, Mrs. George Bishop, in the chair. Mr. Galbraith opened the meeting with prayer, after which Mrs. W. P. Freeman gave an inspiring devotional, taking as her theme "The Song of Our Life Given Up to God." Mrs. Bert Noel sang two delightful solos, "Thanks Be to God" and "Hold Thou My Hand, Dear Lord." Miss Florence Phillimore being the accompanist. The speaker of the evening, Mrs. Nellie McClung, received a warm welcome and spoke with much depth and sincerity on "Has the Church an Answer?" with regard to all the world's problems of today. Rev. G. A. Reynolds pronounced the Benediction. Refreshments were served and a social time was enjoyed.

In Farewell Presentation

CHEMAINUS, Oct. 19.—A large number of members from the various organizations met on Saturday evening in the Chemsinus Recreation Club to bid farewell to Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Adam, who will leave this week for Vancouver, where Mr. Adam has accepted a position.

During the past fourteen years Mr. Adam, who has been employed as chief engineer of the Victoria Lumber & Manufacturing Co., has been interested in practically every community endeavor or organization, and as a delightful vocalist, no programme was complete without his name. His work with the Choral Society during the last several years, with the Masonic Society, the various church organizations, etc., has been an inspiration and real benefit. Mrs. Adam, also a willing worker, was an officer in the Parent-Teacher Association, hospital auxiliary, Girl Guide Association and the board of hospital directors.

IMPROMPTU PROGRAMME

An impromptu programme of violin solos and piano selections, interspersed by dance items, was enjoyed by those present.

During the evening Mr. Stubbs, chairman of the hospital directors, on behalf of the various organizations, presented Mr. and Mrs. Adam with a beautiful sterling silver tea tray and a silver relish tray, together with an inscribed colored scroll. During supper Mr. H. Dobinson expressed, on behalf of Chemsinus residents not connected with the various organizations, the kindly regard in which Mr. and Mrs. Adam were held, and proposed a toast to their future health and happiness. Other artists who assisted during the evening were Mrs. Saunders, Mr. H. Dobinson and Mr. A. E. Craig.

SALTSPRING CHORAL SOCIETY

F. E. Winslow Outlines Aims Of Community Chest to Kiwanis Club

One of the chief arguments in favor of the Community Chest was a more equitable distribution of the burden of financial assistance for charitable purposes through an increase in the number of contributors. F. E. Winslow, chairman of the campaign, told members of Kiwanis Club in the Empress Hotel yesterday in the course of an address on the organization and operation of social welfare agencies and the advantages of the Community Chest.

The most successful campaign to date had brought in $30,000 from 1,700 contributors, the speaker said. This year there would be 500 collectors, and it was hoped to secure the assistance of 5,000 contributors. The Community Chest scheme was responsible for a big saving in time and money, increased the confidence of the public, and eliminated overlapping of appeals for charities, Mr. Winslow declared, adding that it took about three months to organize the campaign.

"We have no doubt that the people of Greater Victoria will not let us down," the speaker concluded.

SOCIAL SERVICE WORK

Before explaining the Community Chest campaign, the guest speaker told of the work of social services in general, and of the difficulty of "selling" the idea of purely welfare agencies to citizens, because so much of the work of the agencies had to be done in confidence. He outlined the operations of Sunshine Inn, which in five years had served upwards of 300,000 meals at an average cost of 7 cents per meal, and of Sunshine Camp for women and children who could not otherwise get an annual holiday. The speaker mentioned that before long it was expected that Sunshine Inn would be closed.

Mr. Winslow said some people had the idea that representatives of welfare organizations "unopposed looking for cases." That was not so, he stated, and no one was helped who did not ask for it. Names of families receiving assistance were kept secret, even from the case committee. In May of last year, 104,000 persons in British Columbia were receiving assistance from the Government, which was overcrowded with applications for aid and must depend on welfare institutions to do the preventive work.

THE ESQUIMALT FIRE BRIGADE

Sir.—If space permits would you kindly print this little letter in your paper which I have read for over twenty years. We have recently had a fire in this district which might have assumed dangerous proportions only for the prompt attention of our gallant little band of fire-fighters. Although these men turned out at a moment's call and eventually subdued the flames, I have yet to hear or see one word of thanks for their gallant conduct from either tenant or owner of the property.

This casual conduct is not British, and the above mentioned owner should be reminded that these men were working overtime for a very small pittance and had to follow their usual calling just the same when daylight came in. It should not be forgotten also that a neighbor roused his whole family out in the effort to save the furniture of the said house, in fact did save it.

A HEALTH CAMPAIGN

Sir.—May an outsider, but one who is keenly interested in all that promotes health, give his opinions on the need for further increase in public interest in health matters?

As yet what we have not succeeded in doing is to insure that all health services be used to the full. There seem to be many people who are unaware of the benefits that might obtain for themselves and for their children if they would only stretch forth their hands to take what is offered them. Great and praiseworthy efforts have been made to spread the knowledge of what they are doing, but I believe that something more is called for at this time. Something in the nature of a national campaign with all the publicity that can be achieved by an organized attack by Government, local authorities, doctors, teachers and the press, all working together for the same end, the building up of a better and fitter Canada.

DEBT-FREE MONEY

Sir.—Recently in an editorial, you quoted an Edmonton correspondent as reporting that unemployment in Alberta is as serious a problem as ever. If this statement of your correspondent is correct, what a pity it is that the banks blocked the introduction of Social Credit last Winter. Had the Government of Alberta been permitted to carry out its humane plans, the needy of that province would be in a happier position today.

Citizens of Alberta, working co-operatively, could readily produce much more than sufficient to enable them to obtain adequate food, clothing, shelter and other necessary things. This is physically possible, and, surely, anything for the general good of humanity (otherwise unobtainable) ought to be made financially possible by the issuance of a debt-free medium of exchange. The productive capacity of industry is ample to provide for the satisfaction of all our needs, but a monopolistic and inadequate monetary arrangement prevents equitable distribution.

You may recall the remark of that good man, the late King George, to the effect that it ought not to be beyond the wit of man to devise means of distributing more fairly the plenty that is available. In this rich country, where human needs have been so bountifully provided for by one who causes the sun and rain to benefit all conditions of men,

France Celebrates Birthday of Poet

A pageant was held on the Place d'Armes, Valenciennes, to commemorate the 600th anniversary of the birth of Froissart, chronicler and poet. It was performed in the same place where Froissart presented his Chronicles to Philip de Hainaut, Queen of England, who is represented in this photograph, with the King, on the stand erected in front of the Town Hall.

our neighbors are obliged to endure lack and limitation because we do not justly distribute what Providence has provided. To our shame, we tolerate artificial poverty while there is plenty for all.

A few years ago, while great numbers of people lacked food, immense quantities of foodstuffs were destroyed, and, in the United States, producers were actually paid for not producing what human beings needed. And still, in spite of these shocking instances of society's inhumanity, and the utter lack of appreciation of the beneficence of Providence, monetary reform is resisted. Historians of the future will marvel at the blindness of this generation which permits unnecessary destitution in the midst of plenty.

ADVICE TO STOCKBROKERS

Sir.—Your leader on this subject in yesterday's issue quoting Mr. Stewart Gilles in The London Daily Express is an interesting example of the way in which the financial papers are accustomed to "pull the wool" over the eyes of the public. The business of stockbrokers does not consist in giving advice, but in buying and selling shares on commission. Were they to take Mr. Gilles' advice and study "world finance" (where are they to do that? World financiers do not give their secrets away), economics (again where and from whom, since no economists are agreed on any subject), accountancy and company laws, they would be grey before beginning to learn their own business.

Few stockbrokers have room in their offices for the voluminous reports that certain firms undertake to keep up to date of all the companies dealt in on the various exchanges, and if they had, a busy broker has not the time to devote to consulting such records with scores of clients clamoring for his attention. All the reasons given for the present slump, (for which the unfortunate brokers appear to be made responsible) are mere red herrings drawn across the path of seekers after truth. A great American financier is said to have consoling his son for having lost $50,000 through the securities his son had bought on his advice by telling that he, the father, had been selling and that the son had made a very good decoy.

There cannot possibly be any sense in the present universal slump in prices of securities when a new world war is on the point of breaking out and must cause enormous activity in all directions. Already Britain's rearmament policy has banished unemployment of the employable from the land. It is almost impossible to pick out a business that is not tainted by ministering to war needs in some form or other, freights are going sky high because of the diversion of shipping to the conduct of the war already in process, etc. England is already refusing orders of various sorts other than for war materials because she is too busy to execute them.

The only reason for the slump, which began gently months back, is that the world's financiers have determined and agreed that now is the time to knock down prices and buy up securities before war sends them rocketing—when they will presently call a halt to war and begin selling off and "taking their profits."

Investors should not worry stockbrokers with questions as to what to buy but should bid their time and pick up the bargains that the financiers are making for them later on, or, if they want to dabble in a mild speculation, they should sell out, put their money in the bank and leave it there for a while, living on their capital meanwhile, secure in the comfortable assurance that the nominal value of the soundest securities will decrease faster far than their rate of interest yielded.

BUSES OR STREET CARS

Sir.—I note in your valuable paper of today's date that the City Council committee decides on vote to determine the form of transportation for the city of Victoria, and that a plebiscite may be taken at the civic elections early in December. It is to be sincerely hoped that the citizens will turn down such a venture. We always feel a certain amount of safety when riding in a street car.

The city of Victoria, with its narrow streets, is not built for the passage of large buses. One has only to watch those already on the run to outside points to see how carefully the drivers have to manipulate until they can get out on to the highway.

When the city is planned to meet the emergency of big omnibuses on the streets, it will be time enough to talk about such services, but in the meantime there is too much danger to life and limb with the orinary automobile traffic that we have now without adding greater risks by introducing leviathans in the way of buses on our streets.

We have splendid facilities provided by the B.C. Electric Railway Co., second to none in proportion to the North American continent, and to my mind there is no real need for such experiments as omnibuses in Victoria.

CONNAUGHT SEAMEN'S INSTITUTE

Sir.—Owing to what is obviously a printer's error, an announcement appeared in this morning's Colonist that the Connaught Seamen's Institute ladies' committee had discussed the use to which the hall connected with the institute could be put "to cover the seating expenses." This is misleading. It should read "to cover the heating expenses." We have had the expense of heating the hall, but with no return in rentals of any kind. May I say that the institute hall is an attractive and well-lighted hall, suitable for badminton club, small dances and socials, and other uses of the kind. We carry on our work quite voluntarily, and sometimes find it difficult to finance our way.

SAILING SHIPS

Sir.—The writer, who served his time in sail in the late 80's, is interested in the articles of Mr. F. M. Kelley, and would like to supplement his feature in the magazine section of today's Sunday edition: "Speeds of Sailing Ships." That is, if the following matter is of sufficient general interest to warrant the space necessary.

It is worthy of note that, at the termination of Red Jacket's remarkable voyage in 1854, Sandy Hook to Liverpool (pierhead) in 13 days 1 hour and 25 minutes, when the Mersey tugs came out to pluck her in, they were unable to keep up with the lonely Red Jacket. So the stout master, Captain Asa Eldridge, sailed her in, laying her alongside unassisted with the crowd aloft taking in sail and swapping badinage with people alongside. Alas, a few years ago I saw Red Jacket—a coal hulk in Gibraltar.

One of the fastest sailers of yesteryear was the famous tea clipper, Cutty Sark, under her best known master, Captain R. Woodget. On one voyage, she logged courses made good on six consecutive days, viz., 330, 336, 340, 342, 360, 350; a total of 2,058 miles.

Maritime history was made by the beautiful tea clipper, that raced the new season's teas from China to England.

From the Parada Anchorage at Fochow, in May, 1866, the clipper Ariel towed down the Min River, followed closely by Flery Cross, Taeping, Serica and Taiting, in order named, and engaged in what is probably the greatest ocean race of all time to get their tea cargoes to London and win the bonus and premium of ten shillings per ton for the ship making the first delivery. A full account of this great race would fill a large book, so suffice it here to recount that the passages for the five ships from Fochow to the Downs were: Taeping, 91 days; Flery Cross and Taiting, 101 days. The owners of Taeping and Ariel got together and agreed that Taeping should claim the bonus and premium, which was afterwards split fifty-fifty with Ariel and her crew.

Serica, howling up-channel almost in the wake of Taeping and Ariel, was picked up by a tug off Deal, towed up the Thames, and actually docked in London on the same date as the two leaders. This ocean race of approximately 16,000 miles, ending in a dead heat, is something for the imagination to picture. The masters of all three ships were Scots, and their ships Clyde-built.

The late Herzogin Coelle was a fast sailer, too, and in 1922 she made the passage from Melbourne to Tait in thirty-five days, logging on seven consecutive days a total of 2,150 miles. She was the Nord-Deutscher Lloyd school ship till 1914, when she was interned in a French port, being afterwards purchased by Capt. Gustaf Erickson, of Mariehamn. But, in 1922-23 Garthway took one year, six months and fifteen days to deliver a cargo of coal from Scotland to Iquique! She had to put back from the Horn to Montevideo. Tried it a second time, but again failed to weather the dreaded Cape. So, she up-helm and ran for the Good Hope, being over a year out when she put into Table Bay for stores and water. She afterwards piled up on Conception. Then there was another of the "Garths"—Nell, if I remember rightly—that once circumnavigated to make a voyage from Melbourne to Bunbury, W.A., a navigable distance of 2,000 miles. She made it in eighty days, which must be recorded as fast sailing, however.

May I, with the utmost cordiality, point out that a "knot" is not a measure of distance, but a unit of speed! In the third paragraph, the term is used in the former sense, incorrectly.

TREES AND LIGHTS

Sir.—Several comments have been made from the Native Sons and others regarding dark streets. The Native Sons comment on the cluster lights being turned out too early. In the Observation Car column of The Colonist of the 13th, G.B. comes more to the truth; the darkness is caused by the trees. Now the whole trouble lays with both the City Fathers and the B.C. Electric. These two concerns must combine forces and remedy the evil. At every street car stop there should be a light on the pole. If it is impossible to put a light on the telephone, that is, if the poles that be wont allow it, then another pole should be erected as near as possible and a light placed on it.

I have been left standing on this street at least six times. The car men cannot see people standing on the street because it is too dark. I trust the B.C. Electric will remedy this very serious fault without delay.

The next fault, and a bad one, is the trees. There are too many on the streets where there are fewer lights, and they are allowed to grow too tall so that the branches touch the electric light wires and telephone wires. Trees should not touch wires of any kind.

These trees I refer to absolutely hide the one light there is. Every-one loves trees, but people love light also. I may be wrong but I think this is the time of the year to cut and trim trees, and the work should be done under the direct supervision of someone who understands them.

The B.C.E. certainly has an argument with the City Fathers when it comes to trees, and the City Fathers have one to come back with when it comes to no lights on street car stops.

It is no fun to be left standing on a street car corner in the cold waiting for the next one to come in twelve or fifteen minutes.

I must say there is a decided improvement since the globes have been changed back to the old-time globes this last two weeks, but the good work will not be complete until there are lights at all car stops and the trees done something there.

There are plenty of unemployed men who would jump at the chance of a job. I trust something will be done without delay.

DEBT-FREE MONEY

Sir.—In Mr. Jull's letter dated the 2nd inst., he says that Social Credit does not forbid interest. He then proceeds to argue that the banking system, by continually adding to the volume of its loans additional debt-money to pay interest on all the money in existence, would cause deflation. The banking system would then acquire title to all wealth.

Surely that is an exaggeration. The system has been functioning for many hundreds of years and there is still a lot of wealth owned by the people. Even in Alberta the banks do not own all the land, and wheat, and coal, and oil, but if they did, they would soon be compelled to give these things up if Mr. Aberhart's new taxation bill were to be enforced.

Mr. Jull continues to believe that all money is created by banks—in spite of my former letter showing that all gold money was created by someone else. It is true that in the illustration used in my last letter the bank may have created the $500 lent to the farmer, but if that loan was repaid by the borrower, how can it remain as a perpetual debt to the banking system?

Can the banks create credit without limit? May we refer to that favorite story of the Social Crediters, the Guernsey Market? The people of this island needed a market building, and the Government decided to construct the building and pay for it with a new issue of their own notes. The workmen spent this money with their local merchants, and thus a new currency was created.

The Government leased the stalls and stores in the building and gradually retired the currency from the rentals. Was the market built without cost? Mr. Jull knows it was not, because someone had to furnish the labor and materials, and someone had to support the workmen while they worked.

By issuing additional money, the Government brought about a rise in prices and the cost of the building was paid for by the citizens through this increase in prices. Then, as the authorities collected the rents and retired the notes, prices fell and the tenants in the building paid back to the public the amount they had previously lost.

And this is what happens if a bank lends ahead of deposits. Now if after a certain point, say, in the creation of loans in excess of deposits, new loans are made only as old ones are paid, then there is no further inflation. The bank then actually lends savings, and before making a new loan, requires a new saving, or repayment, which amounts to the same thing in other words, the farmer is not allowed by the bank to consume all his wheat, but must save some of it in order to repay his loan. In doing this, he is saving, but saving after, instead of before, production. Hence Mr. Aberhart will see that the Alberta banks are not so well equipped as he might suppose to pay social dividends, and Mr. Jull will see that the Government would be in no better position, unless the wealth were already there. And if it were, we should probably not need the dividend if the wealth were properly distributed.

WHAT'S IN A NAME

Ruth was a sweet girl. She was reading a book that gave the meaning of names. Her mother was watching her—and thinking of all the young men who were attracted to her.

"Mother," said Ruth, "It says Philip means lover of horses, and James means beloved. Mother, what does George mean, I wonder?" "I hope, my dear," said her mother, "that George means business."

For Bad Winter Coughs, Mix This Remedy at Home

Quick Relief. Big Saving. So Easy. No Cooking.

This well known recipe is used by many thousands of housewives, because they have found that it gives them a much more dependable remedy for distressing winter coughs. It's so easy to mix—a child could do it. From any drugist, get 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex, a compound containing Norway Pine, in concentrated form, well known for its effect on throat membranes. Then make a syrup by stirring two cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. It's no trouble at all, and takes but a moment. No cooking needed.

Put the Pinex into a 16 oz. bottle and add your syrup. This gives you 16 ounces of cough remedy, unusually quick-acting and dependable, and you get four times as much cough medicine for your money. It never stops, and is very pleasant—children love it.

You'll be surprised by the way it takes hold of severe coughs, giving quick, satisfying relief. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and helps clear the air passages. Money refunded if it doesn't please in every way.

Hyne Eliminates Spavin in Semis Of City Tourney

Registers 4 and 3 Victory Over Defending Champion in Caddies' Title Meet at Gorge Vale Golf Club—Pat Fletcher Reaches Final by Two Fine Wins—Play-Off Is Set Tomorrow

Two of Victoria's finest young shotmakers, Bert Hyne, who won the Oak Bay Club title a few weeks ago with a sparkling round of 72, and Pat Fletcher, who finished in third place in the Alberta open this year, reached the final of the city caddies' championship, yesterday afternoon, at the Gorge Vale Golf Club. They will tee off tomorrow morning over the thirty-six-hole distance for the honors and the Spencer Cup.

In the forenoon, Hyne eliminated E. Barber, 5 and 4, and then went out after lunch in a heavy downpour and defeated the defending champion, Walter Spaven, 4 and 3. Hyne played great golf under tough conditions in putting the titleholder on the side lines. The winner was three under par on the opening nine, being out in 35, while Spaven required four more strokes. Hyne was four up at the turn, firing birdies at Spaven at the third, sixth and ninth holes, while Spaven started off with a birdie at the first. It was the only time during the match that Spaven held the lead when he won the first hole.

HAS BIG LEAD

Hyne went five up at the tenth. He halved the next hole and then lost the next two, but he closed out the match at the fifteenth, which he won with a par five to Spaven's six. Fletcher eliminated L. Ward in the morning, 4 and 3, and then was carried to the seventeenth green in the afternoon by Doug Todd before gaining a 2 and 1 decision.

CHAMPIONSHIP

W. Spaven defeated B. Betteridge, 1 up.
B. Hyne defeated E. Barber, 5 and 4.

Move Out in Front in Table Tennis Race With Win Over Musketeers

Playing at the top of their form, Liberty Cafe moved out in front in the Victoria Table Tennis Association "A" division race with an 8-2 triumph over the Musketeers. The winners won seven of their eight singles and broke even in the doubles.

Louis Nelson's Garage, former league leaders, fell before the finer stroking of the Melrose "A" team and tasted a 7-3 setback that dropped them into second place in company with Mount Douglas, both one point behind the cafemen.

Mount Douglas battled to a 5-5 draw with the Pioneer Fruit team gaining an even break in singles and doubles, while the Wildcats took the Vancouver Island Coach Lines into camp to the tune of a 7-3 defeat. Royal Arcanum trounced the Meteors 9-1, for the most decisive victory of the evening.

League Matches Carded Saturday In Top Division

TWO more league matches will be run off in the First Division, Saturday afternoon. Secretary Jim Mesher stated yesterday. "Victoria City, who were held to a draw last week, will journey out to Work Point Barracks to meet the Garrison, with "Scotty" Dods handling the whistle. At the Royal Athletic Park, Esquimalt will face Saanich Thistles, with Bill Cull as referee. The Dockers suffered an 8-2 setback in their initial appearance but will have a strengthened lineup on deck against the Thistles, while the Garrison hope to avenge the 1-1 lacing they took from Victoria West last Saturday at the expense of the City. Both matches will start at 2:45.

HOOP SQUADS TO USHER IN LEAGUE PLAY

Trio of Fixtures Carded Tonight at High School—Dominoes on Saturday

Six Victoria and District Basketball League squads will swing into action tonight at the Victoria High School gymnasium as local hoops pry the lid off the 1937-38 season.

Cardinals, British Columbia intermediate "A" champions, and Gainers' Superiors, Vancouver Island senior "A" titleholders, will clash in the opening attraction, a women's league encounter. The tussle will get under way at 7:15 o'clock.

Canadian Scottish, last season's intermediate boys' champions, and the Chinese Students will meet in the second game on the programme, an intermediate "A" fixture.

The final game will bring together the Sons of Canada, last season's Vancouver Island intermediate "A" champions, and the West Road, who last year performed under the colors of the West Saanich Mercantiles.

Wally Stupe has been named referee.

Other games scheduled for Victoria and District Basketball League quintettes were released yesterday by Secretary Yeamans, as follows:

October 22—Kingham-Gillespie vs. St. Louis Alumni, intermediate "A" boys; Navy vs. Liberty Cafe, senior "B" men.

October 23—Spencers vs. Mount Talmie C.C.P., senior men.

October 27—Units vs. Adverts, women's division; North Quadra vs. Crescents, intermediate "A" boys; Hoyle-Brown vs. Bays, senior "B" men.

SEAHAWKS WILL OPERATE AGAIN

President States Seattle Will Have Strong Hockey Team in League

SEATTLE, Oct. 19 (P).—Attorney Phil Lyette, president of the Seattle Hockey Club, announced today there will be professional hockey in Seattle this winter with a team "second to none in the league."

His statement came after an all-Sunday conference with President Bobby Rowe, of the Portland Club, and Guy Patrick, Vancouver president.

Earlier, Lyette had said he would not operate the franchise himself, leaving the hockey status indefinite until the other bosses became concerned and held the informal meeting.

Lyette said the matter of a manager was undecided, but that he had settled another league problem by agreeing to play home games as he had desired. Spokane will have the Sunday games—Seattle amateur teams will have the ice here Sundays.

The Seahawks may start pre-season workouts November 7, with their first home engagement the following Wednesday.

SONNY BUXTON WILL TACKLE WENSTOB IN CHAMPIONSHIP BOUT

Victorian Has Big Opportunity to Win Canadian Honors When He Faces Hard-Punching Boy From Viking, Alta., in Twelve-Round Fight—Wenstob Will Be Favored

VANCOUVER, Oct. 19 (P).—The Canadian light-heavyweight boxing title will find an official wearer tomorrow night when Victoria's rugged Sonny Buxton and Eddie Wenstob, the Alberta bombshell from Viking, meet in a twelve-round, title-deciding battle.

The bout, sanctioned by the Western Boxing Federation of Edmonton and the Vancouver Boxing Commission as a title scrap, will end a year of haggling over the title that began with the defeat of Charlie Belanger, of Winnipeg, by Wenstob a year ago. Wenstob, twenty-three, and with a long string of convincing victories crowded into his four years of professional ring career, immediately claimed the title when he defeated Belanger, the supposed light-heavy champion.

Out on the Pacific Coast however, Sonny Buxton, twenty-five-year-old battler who learned his fighting in the army as a teen-aged lad, was winning bouts in that class with starting regularity. He also claimed the light-heavy crown.

Promoter Ted Moore, of Vancouver, saw his chance and signed the pair for a title go, with the sanction of the two main Western commissions.

HAS BETTING EDGE

Though Buxton is a skilful, hard-hitting ringman, Wenstob will probably carry the edge in the betting when they enter the ring tomorrow night. His record includes draws with Ben Poord, former British Empire champion, and another draw with Tommy Farr. In another bout with Farr he was outpointed.

Buxton began his professional ring career when he was twenty-two and fresh out of the army with a decision over Ford Smith, who then was fifth ranking heavyweight in the world. Smith defeated him in a later bout.

The Victoria battler has since used his rugged, hard-hitting style successfully in the Pacific Northwest.

Large Attendance At Daily Colonist Aquatic Campaign

Another 120 Children at Second Class of Morning Newspaper's "Learn to Swim" Event at the Crystal Garden—Fresh Contingent Will Attend Every Day This Week

The Daily Colonist "Learn to swim" class is now in full swing at the Crystal Garden. Yesterday two more classes, comprised of sixty children in each, received their first lesson in learning to swim, under the capable instruction of Fred and Mary Ellison. This is their initial step in a six-week course, given absolutely free by The Colonist and carried out under the supervision of R. Raymond, Crystal Garden manager.

Each day this week will see two fresh classes in the pool, one at 4 p.m. and one at 4:30, and each comprised of sixty children, aged eight to twelve years. On Monday the first class will commence a more advanced course. In this way 600 Victoria children will learn the valuable lesson of how to care for themselves in the water. At the end of the six-week course those who pass the elementary tests will be presented with a handsome diploma testifying to their ability in swimming. A careful individual check is kept of the progress of each child and the progress made.

Makes Successful Break From Jail

LETHBRIDGE, Oct. 19 (P).—A successful break from freedom from the Provincial Jail here was made late today by Thomas Rubitz, twenty-three-year-old convict, who had ten months still to serve of a one-year sentence for breaking into a garage. Rubitz, who was convicted at Calgary, was digging potatoes on the jail farm when he made his break.

STOCK PRICES DROP THEN RALLY WELL

ing a better tone. In the morning, twenty-six issues plummeted to new lows for the year or longer.

ALL MARKETS AFFECTED
The price -wrecking wave swept commodities, bonds and other investments down the hill, but there again late strength was fairly general.

It was the heaviest selling storm experienced in Wall Street since the Roosevelt Government began "poling" United States exchanges in 1934. The finishing rally found traders exhausted.

Chrysler, selling down almost $10 in the first hour, closed at $61, only $125 off from yesterday. United States Steel, off $7 at one time, closed sixty-two cents above Monday at $62.12. Allied Chemical & Dye, which fell $11, was off $2 at the close. American Telephone finished with a $2 loss at $147 a share after being down $7. General Motors, down $6 at mid-morning was up $2.25 at its last price of $38.25.

HEAVY TURNOVER
More than 7,287,000 shares changed hands at the exchange—largest turnover since the 9,000,000 shares in the wide break on July 21, 1933.

Although the day's transactions showed 742 and 189 advances, extent of the rally in leading issues carried the Associated Press closing average of sixty stocks to $45.30, twenty cents higher than yesterday's finish.

Fully half an hour before trading opened it was known brokers would precipitate an avalanche of selling orders as soon as the gong was sounded. Until the early hours this morning activity in the financial district was at full capacity, as brokers checked up on the losses of yesterday.

Calls were sent out to margin traders instructing them their accounts would be sold out if more margin was not put up this morning. "Distress" selling was in full evidence in the first hour of trading.

TICKER TAPE BEHIND
The ticker tape was behind trading from the outset. Just before noon it was twenty-two minutes late. After noon the ticker caught up.

The number of stock issues traded in during the day—by which traders compute the breadth of a day's transactions—was 1,043, largest on record. Total number of issues listed on the exchange is only 1,253.

Reminiscent of October 29, 1929, and subsequent days, were scenes around the Stock Exchange. Brokers crowded around all of the trading posts on the floor. The shouting on the floor of the exchange could be heard a block away.

TAKEN UP QUICKLY
As quickly as large blocks of stock were offered they were taken up with a rapidity that became reassuring to traders as the day waned. Word spread that some men of wealth were making large commitments. It was also affirmed some investment trusts were buying.

With London and other foreign markets closing weak during the first hour of trading in New York, there were numerous reports of foreign selling orders being placed here. But, later in the day, it was reported these had turned into buying orders.

NON-INTERVENTION PLANS DEADLOCKED

other Governments entertained some belief in the possibility of success. "The Soviet Government does not intend to create for these other Governments any difficulties."

Ambassador Maisky added his Government "agrees to examine the question of belligerent rights after the final evacuation of all non-Spanish elements taking part in military operations."

Info sources said entire responsibility for the breakdown of negotiations would rest with Italy and Germany unless tomorrow's meeting produced a solution.

ENGLISH NET STAR ARRIVES FOR MATCH

VANCOUVER, Oct. 19 (P).—Charles Hare, England's twenty-two-year-old Davis Cup player, arrived here to play a series of exhibition tennis matches with British Columbia stars tomorrow.

Hare, who went down before California's Don Budge in Davis Cup play this year, will exchange shots in singles play against Doug Cameron, of Vancouver, and Jack Brown, former first ranking provincial player.

The tall Davis Cup player will team with Russ Hawes, provincial junior titleholder, against Cameron and Ron Sidaway, city champion, in doubles play.

Store Soccer Elevens Crash This Afternoon—Navy Will Meet Hotelmen

With second place in the Hayward Cup series at stake, Hudson's Bay and Spencers, mid-week soccer elevens, will clash this afternoon at the Royal Athletic Park in the feature game on the Wednesday Football League's weekly programme. Sharing second berth with a win and a loss apiece, the store teams promise to provide plenty of entertainment for the fans who wend their way to the enclosure.

Navy, heading the loop with two wins in as many starts, will be at home to Manager Eddie Ruddle's Gorge Hotel boys at Admirals Road. Sailors have their smartest line-up in many seasons and as long as they are able to present their complete team should keep their winning streak intact.

Dave McMillan will referee at the Royal Athletic Park, and Percy Shrimpton will officiate at Admirals Road. Kick-offs are set for 2:30 o'clock.

Teams follow:
Hudson's Bay—Renfrew, Wyatt, McConnell, Oakman, Kennedy, Williamson, Speller, Preston, Pogden, McBride and Fish. Subs: Gelling, McDonald and Fieldhouse.

Navy—L. DeCosta, Kennedy, Cockrill, Marr, Robinson, Gagnon, Geddes, Ross, E. DeCosta, W. DeCosta and Murray. Subs: Hibbert, Dovey and Walker.

BY-ELECTION DATE NOV. 29
cial choices of their candidates will be made. John L. Clay, returning officer for the Federal riding, announced a house-to-house canvass by enumerators would begin shortly, to compile a new voters' list, upon instructions from Ottawa.

The speed with which the by-election is being called gave support to reports the Federal Government had a candidate in mind and were ready for the test.

If Mr. Hart is selected and consents to stand, it would mean a vacancy in the Treasury in the Pattullo administration, and a Provincial by-election in Victoria. Only elevation to the Senate or an offer of a Federal Cabinet post might induce such a change, political observers here were inclined to believe.

Fear Some Ship May Sink Torpedo
SAN DIEGO, Calif., Oct. 19 (P).—Some of these days, United States Navy officials fear, a ship is going to strike a torpedo off the Southern California coast—and the torpedo will sink. Two of the torpedoes, worth $10,000 apiece, were lost in recent manoeuvres. They are not loaded, but they're delicate.

ELEVENS FOR SOCCER GAME ARE RELEASED

Ireland and England Name Line-Ups for International Match

LONDON, Oct. 19 (P).—A completely changed team from the squad that defeated Ireland, 3-1, at Stoke-on-Trent last year, will represent England October 23 in the first international soccer match of the season at Belfast. Ireland has retained five players.

Of fifty-one contests played between the two countries since 1882, England has won forty, Ireland four and seven have ended in draws. Ireland's last triumph over the Englishmen was at Belfast in the 1927-28 international tournament.

The teams:
England—Goal, Woodley (Chelsea); backs, Sproston (Leeds), Barkas (Manchester City); halfbacks, Grayston (Arsenal), Young (Huddersfield), Copping (Arsenal); forwards, Gieldard (Everton), Hall (Tottenham Hotspurs), Mills (Chelsea), Goulden (West Ham United), Brook (Manchester City).

Ireland—Goal, Breen (Manchester City); backs, Hayes (Huddersfield Town), Cook (Everton); halfbacks, Mitchell (Chelsea), Jones (Glenavon), Browne (Leeds United); forwards, Kernaghan (Belfast Celtic), Stevenson (Everton), Martin (Nottingham Forest), Doherty (Manchester City), Madden (Norwich City).

EXPLOSION ENDS LULL SUDDENLY
military authorities marked more houses for demolition—the number to correspond to the number of rifles taken.

ONE HOUSE, ONE RIFLE
They promised to spare one house for each rifle returned. The village was surrounded at dawn and police entered to demand surrender of the arms. When they received no response, a search was made. As this proved fruitless, the houses were blown up.

A portent of further trouble was seen in reports from Syria that a new Arab Higher Committee was being formed by refugees from Palestine, together with Arabs from Iraq, Egypt, Syria and Lebanon to replace the group outlawed here.

(The Arab Higher Committee was declared illegal by the British authorities on October 1 and leaders exiled in a drive designed to crush terrorism in Palestine.)

CLIMAX TO CAMPAIGN
(The drive was provoked by the assassination on September 26 of Lewis Yelland Andrews, British Commissioner for Galilee, and his bodyguard, which brought to a climax a campaign against the British proposal to partition Palestine into separate Arab and Jewish states with a third part under British mandate.)

French police were watching the Grand Mufti of Jerusalem, who fled from Jerusalem and is staying in a private house in Beirut. Military reinforcements moved up from Nazareth and Haifa to the northern frontier of the Holy Land and police patrols were strengthened in the area.

Guards armed with rifles were stationed in every railway coach of every Palestine train.

TIME OUT! By Chet Smith

I'm Surprised, Kenilworth, You Should Welcome an Opportunity to Carry the Ball!

LIFE'S LIKE THAT - By Fred Neher

"Mom Says If You Don't Come Right Home She's Gonna Have a Thing or Two to Tell You!"

Jane Dixon Says:

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE LOUISIANA COLLEGE GIRL, WHO TURNED DOWN AN OFFER IN THE MOVIES BECAUSE SHE WANTS TO BECOME A TEACHER.

Doff the chapeau to beautiful black-haired Kate Galbreath, of Memphis, Tennessee.

This Galbreath wonder girl has just turned down an option in the forthcoming production, "Gone With the Wind."

"No thanks," she said. "I can't afford to be tied to a screen contract for six years or for any other length of time. I'm going to become a teacher, a college instructor."

Methinks I hear dozens of young things breathing heavily at thought of such less majesty. "Imagine," they gasp, "being offered a chance to be with Robert Taylor and Tyrone Powers, and Clark Gable and Dick Foran, and all those perfectly wonderful men, and giving it the thumbs down to look after dull-wits in schoolrooms. What's wrong with the person? She must be slightly 'dipped'."

But Kate Galbreath isn't "dipped" at all, my dear. She happens to be one of those regular young women who knows what she wants to do, and who has the strength and the courage to go on and do it.

For every moving picture player in Hollywood who won as much as a pinch of recognition through an option, there are at least a couple of hundred complete and total washouts. For every player who won stardom through an option, there are several thousand failures—and this is a conservative estimate.

A wise young woman who has found a work she enjoys and who is qualified for that work, will not take such a gamble.

Kate Galbreath was on the campus of Louisiana State University when those omnipresent huntmen, the picture scouts, noticed her promise and offered her a "test." Something will have to be done some time about these rapacious look-outs, who so often prey on the imagination and the credulity of the romantic age.

Not difficult to imagine the set-up on the Louisiana campus. A suave sophisticate saying: "Lis'n sister, you're a natural. You take this test; you go through it like a breeze, and you get a part in a picture that's stupendous, colossal, super-super—anyhow, right away you're a sensation. What's the name of that picture, Al? Um—yes—"Gone With the Wind." Big screen number. Tornadoes, typhoons, ships at sea—

"scuse me Al, I gotta telephone the boss in Hollywood. I gotta tell him about Miss—Miss—what'd you say your name is, sister? O.K. You're as good as signed. California, here she comes!"

I've seen; I've heard it happen. Not in so many words, but the analogy tags up.

What happens?

If "Sister" accepts the option, she goes to Hollywood. Lots of publicity in the home town papers about the picture. Months later the reason for it returns to the home town, if she is fortunate enough to afford a return ticket, without having had so much as a fleeting glimpse of the boss or penetrating beyond the iron-bound gate of the casting office in the firm which optioned her.

One good, sound, able conscientious college instructor is worth a dozen of any Hollywood option actresses you or I can name.

So doff the chapeau to Kate Galbreath, of Memphis, Tennessee. She may not wear so many gardenias, but she will wear a badge of real service, which is far more becoming to a real woman and far more valuable, too, in the long run.

WHAT IS YOUR IDEAL MAN?

Jane Dixon offers a prize of ten dollars to the man or woman who, in her opinion, writes the best answer to this question in not more than 100 words. Address your replies to Jane Dixon, care of this newspaper.

HALIBUT SEASON ENDED FOR 1937

Fishermen Lifted Lines for Last Time Yesterday—Landings for Year Above 1936

PRINCE RUPERT, Oct. 19.—

Lines were lifted for the last time on the British Columbia halibut banks today as the season set by the International Fisheries Commission ended. Only two Prince Rupert boats were engaged in fishing over the week-end, but a number of American craft are still working.

and landings will probably continue to the end of the week.

Meantime, the Fish Exchange announced halibut landings here for the current season totaled 13,051,850 pounds to October 15, compared with 10,387,100 at the same date in 1936. The Canadian catch for the year totaled 6,540,850 pounds, against 5,466,000 pounds last year, while American boats landed 6,509,000 pounds, compared with 4,920,500 pounds in 1936.

LARGE BUILDING CHANGES HANDS

Oak Bay Apartments Sold to Miss Ewing at Price of $60,000

At a price stated to be "in the neighborhood of $60,000," the Oak Bay Apartments have been sold to Miss Jane M. Ewing, owner of the Small Charming Hotel, it was announced yesterday by the Royal Trust Company, which negotiated the deal between Miss Ewing and the Victoria Bus Company, vendors.

Situated on Beach Drive, at the terminus of the Oak Bay car line, this building was formerly the Oak Bay Hotel. It was erected thirty years ago, after the Mount Baker Hotel was destroyed by fire, and was then an hotel of twenty-three rooms. Subsequent additions brought the number of rooms up to thirty-five. Five years ago the building was remodeled into an apartment block.

The building will probably be operated in the near future as an hotel, Miss Ewing said. The present name will be retained until the end of this month, after which it will be changed.

Marion Davies Has Starring Role in Film Featuring Four Popular Comedians

Somewhere in the cast of nearly every picture ever filmed there's a comedian. It's a film formula. Stars come and go, but good comedians maintain their popularity year after year. As long as they are willing and able to work, Hollywood has a place for them.

Prominent among the comedy players who are in constant demand at the studios are Frank McHugh, Louise Fazenda, Allen Jenkins and Patsy Kelly.

All of these fun-makers—and more—are included in the cast of "Ever Since Eve," the Cosmopolitan production which starts today, for two days only, at the Atlas Theatre.

PLAZA A musical revolt, in which flutes and trombones take the place of rifles and machine guns, provides a veritable riot of melody in the Oscar Straus musical, "Land Without Music," showing for the last times today at the Plaza Theatre.

COLUMBIA "Wings of the Morning," showing for the last times today at the Columbia Theatre, was produced entirely in the new, natural Technicolor. The Twentieth Century-Fox release stars Annabella, Henry Fonda and Leslie Banks, and presents the world-famous tenor, John McCormack.

DOMINION "Danger—Love at the Theatre," with Ann Sothern, Jack Haley and Edward Everett Horton, is showing currently at the Dominion Theatre. It's a daffy laugh-bit with a new way of loving and newer ways of laughing that has just come from Hollywood's best mirth-makers.

What Today Means

If October 20 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m., and from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. The danger periods are from 7:30 to 9:30 a.m., from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m., and from 9:30 to 11:30 p.m.

Before condemning anyone this day, try to see yourself in the other person's position. People kindly disposed towards and willing to help their fellowmen will make the right sort of progress this day, especially in solving their individual problems. Whatever you do, keep your mind free of venomous thoughts, for they are bound to have a bad reaction on you physically or mentally. Surprises will be the cause of much happiness and dismay. Through the lack of proper preparation, negligence or improvidence, unexpected visitors are apt to be responsible for many of the day's embarrassing situations. You may require a sense of humor to understand many of the occurrences this day, so before taking anything too seriously, try to see if there is not a funny side to the situation. Married and engaged couples, as well as those busily engaged in the conquest of a heart, must avoid quarrelling this day, because misunderstandings are liable to be difficult to patch up.

If a woman and October 20 is your birthday, you should have an excellent memory. You ought to have a great deal of ability in some particular line of work. Your chances to succeed will be greatly enhanced if you specialize in one thing. You perhaps have shrewd judgment, discriminating taste and an exceptionally tender heart. You may be very emotional; and this trait, unless controlled, can cause you much unhappiness. You might be inclined to tell your close relatives and friends what they should do, and if this is one of your habits, overcome it so as to keep from becoming unpopular. As a professional hostess, entertainer, buyer, artist, interior decorator, author, teacher, or broker you are apt to do well financially. If you play the matrimonial game the way it should be played there is no reason why you should not be a winner.

The child born on October 20 seldom is a disappointment to its parents. Generally very bright, by the time it reaches its majority this youngster ought to be well prepared to face the problems of life successfully.

If a man and October 20 is your natal day, it will be only by having kindly consideration for the feelings of other people that you can expect to enjoy their high esteem. As an
